

particulars, we have the e considered as an official t think it prudent to ex-it is derived. It gives a n the subject of the relaica:

as not been more success-p respect to England. It ates to the point anxious nperor for the last three ce America to go to war unt of the orders in counade she has adopted.

one on the part of France, in and Milan, it is necesde on the course she will orders in council cannot be re no longer in existence, blockade of all the ports s. On this blockade she and it is believed she will probability this act will French Government, and placed in a cleft stick. If on the part of England ice, will again strip them; e United States renew the Britain will attack them.— be attended to, since the rliament, it is found that adopted is considered the ce with England, the Emcesses of introducing coas it were the Grand Douangland permits her colonial ts to fill the coffers of the little advantage as a remuinglance, for which Engys to the Grand Douanier me times its intrinsic value, uence, eight or nine times rives from it, exclusive of has to pay to the growers, the factor. This reasoning us it is that the Emperor monopoly of the commerce ntage.

ARMY.

ésars) have at length em-their horses for Portugal, shall moderate which was atters received this morning 11th regiment, 1100 strong, Bradford, has sailed from ve the 47th, or 2d battalion ales's Irish heroes, or both.

Gen. Graham to join Lord ectors was held at the East ollowing commanders took to their departing for their z—Captain F. Gaillard d Bengal; captain Barker, y and Bengal. Captain H. o the command of the ship signed to Madras, Madras, djourned at six o'clock till olonel Gore Langton have y by severe illness in their out any other than verbal amendments, and upon which no division took place. The bill has passed the committee, but Mr. Pousouby has given notice, that on the third reading, it should receive further discussion.

An abstract of the regency bill may be found in the last page.

The Morning Post (a London ministerial paper) announces to the public that as soon as a regency bill passes, the present ministers will resign their offices, and that a new administration will be formed by the regent.

It is reported that arrangements for a new ministry are in a considerable state of forwardness.

There are many who imagine that they will be included in the new administration, who will find themselves much disappointed. The administration will not be totally those who are denominated "The Talents," neither will they be all Foxites. His Royal Highness, a few days since, made use of an emphati-cal expression, which has caused much observation among the parties who aspire to come into power, namely that he will "select the corn from the chaff." If the parties are split, as it is expected they will, there may yet be a formidable opposition to the new ministry, so that it may lead to a dissolution of Parliament in May next, at which time, the most pressing part of the public business will be disposed of.

Lord Grey was closetted two hours, on Saturday, with the Prince of Wales; his lordship is to be premier, with a very salutary condition, that his Royal Highness is not to have any private advisers, but to consult alone on state affairs, his confidential ministers.
Lords Grey, Grenville and Holland, are to submit, in the course of next week, the arrangement of a new ministry to the prince.

Other accounts say that Lord Holland will be placed at the head of administration. His Lordship and Lord Moira are much in the confidence of his Royal Highness.

Lord Erskine it is said will be Lord Chancellor. The Marquis of Lansdown and Earl Moira are severally spoken of as Lord Lieutenant of this country.

The Dukes of Cumberland and Clarence, Lord Holland, Moira and Lauderdale, have had several interviews with the Prince of Wales.

And if it is fact, that the Duke of Rutland will give his support to the new administration, it is not probable, that the Lord Chancellor of Ireland will be removed. It has been mentioned in London, that the Londdale party, which is very numerous will support the regency administration.

THE CATHOLICS.

Lord Donoughmore in a polite letter to the chairman of the catholic committee has consented to present their petition to the House of Lords.

A meeting of the catholic committee took place in Dublin on Saturday last, when it was moved by Mr.
O'Connell, that the consideration of an address to the Prince of Wales should be postponed for a fortnight, and agreed to. Mr. O'Connell then gave notice of a motion he would propose upon a future day, that an address should be framed to the protestants of Ireland, after which the meeting adjourned.

The High Sheriffs of the counties of Tipperary, Waterford, and Kilkenny, have given notice, that a Special Commission will be holden for the discharge of the Gaols in those counties, on the following days:—at Clonmel, on the 4th—at Waterford, on the 9th—and at Kilkenny on the 12th February.

Last night, the mills of Manistér were entirely consumed by fire, together with a quantity of wheat and flour; how the accident occurred is not as yet known.
We are happy to state that Mr. Keane the proprietor,

DEATHS.

On the 11th instant, at Faby, near Bailinasloo, count-ty Galway, aged 60 years, Richard P. Davis, Esq. late Captain in the Galway Regiment of Militia.

Yesterday morning, in the bloom of youth, after a lingering illness, which she bore with pious fortitude, Miss Jean Fitzgerald, daughter of Mr. Richard Fitzgerald, of John's-street.

Yesterday, in Mallow-street, Mrs. Harrison, widow of the late William Harrison, of Garrara, Co. Clare, Esq.

Sincerely and deeply regretted, after a severe lingering illness, Mrs. Disrael, of Grafton-street, Dublin, aged 68 years.

In South King-street, Dublin, Mrs. Somers.

On the 10th inst. at Annadale, the hon. W. J. Skoffington, in the 61st year of his age.

Lately, at Cirencester, Mr. J. Clarke, who owed his death to having swallowed an apricot stone in the course of last summer, which lodged in a part not likely to create serious injury; but on a sudden immersion into the bath a few days ago, the concussion caused its removal to so vitæa part, that his immediate dissolution followed.

A few days ago, at Wisbeach, Mr. J. Ermaott, at the advanced age of 96; he had buried five wives, and the sixth now survives.

On the 10th inst. at Greta Green, Mr. Jos. Paisley, the celebrated hymeneal Coupler, aged 79.—For the last 40 years of his life he is supposed to have drunk not less than two bottles of brandy daily.

Application to the Imperial Parliament for Private Bills.

NOTICE is hereby given, that the time for receiving Petitions for Private Bills is limited by the House of Commons to the 1st February next; the time for presenting Bills to the 4th of March; and for receiving Reports from Committees upon Bills to the 29th April.

By order of the Chief Secretary,

SAMUEL GURKELL,

Parliamentary Agent to the Irish Office.

January 25, 1811.

PATRICK STREET.

TO be Let in Patrick Street, from the first of June next, the House and Shop now occupied by Miss Ellen Brennan.

It is in perfect Order and the Tenant will not have a Shilling to expend on it, a long Lease can be given.— Application to be made to Mr. Mac DONNELL, Gazette Office, Limerick. January 25.

TO BE LET,

ON A LEASE FOR EVER,

OR THE INTEREST SOLD,

For which a liberal time will be given for Payment.

THE HOUSE in George's-street, nearly opposit Swinburn's Hotel, next door to Mr. Wm. Ledger's Cabinet Warehouse, and now occupied by Matthew Canny, Esq.

From the excellence of the Situation, extensive Rere Improvements, &c. &c. no further comment is necessary.—Application to Matthew Canny, Esq.

Limerick, Jan. 25.

BANKRUPT'S SALE.