THE KING.

The following are the bulletins received since our last:—

"Windsor-castle, Feb. 15.

"There is little difference in his Majesty's state since yesterday."

"Windsor-castle, Feb. 16.

"His Majesty continues still in the same state."

Saturday evening, as some people were returning home to Ardsry from the market by sea, a young man of the name of John Connelly, fell into the water at the slip, near the Dock Galway, and instantly disappeared. It appears they had been drinking at a public-house, by which they all, with the exception of Connelly and another man, got completely intoxicated; and after they had been put on board their boat by the two latter poor Connelly in the act of pushing her off and stepping in met a watery grave—his body has not yet been found.
