

ed of the state of his Majesty's health are so satisfactory, that a formal declaration of his competency to exercise the duties of the kingly office, we hope may very shortly be expected.—Star.

Lieutenant-colonel Keating, who was shot through the leg, at the successful attack on the isle of France, under the command of General Abercrombie, was when the last dispatches came away, in a fair way of recovery. The gallant Officer commanded the reserve and remained at the head of his brigade a considerable time after he was wounded, and until the enemy ceased to make further resistance. The Governor-General in Council, Lord Minto, has, in the most honourable manner recorded his former services at Bourbon, of which island Col. Keating is appointed Lieutenant-Governor Commandant; and where, in conjunction with his brave and distinguished friend, Captain Rowley, he compelled the French to lay down their arms and surrender prisoners of war.

This week, Peter G. Smithwick, gent son to Wm. Smithwick, of Lodge, in this county, Esq. was sworn an attorney of the courts of Common Pleas and Exchequer, and admitted a member of the honorable Society of the King's Inns.
