MR. VINCENT & MR. SPRAY.

These gentlemen in this city will be objects of Entertainment, very rarely, brought before the public—Lectures on Readings, combined with Musical selections Poets and best composers of any age, it's reputation as a public Lecturer, —Mr. Spray is not less distinguished than his colleague in the literary world; the unity of their respective talents, in a promises every thing that can be desiring.

His fine voice, adds all the recommendation of execution, and taste.

He will not fail to excite attention as a voice of excellent judgment, taste, and ability; has been the pupil of Mrs. Dickson, and his commanding voice, possessing great flexibility.

It composes the strength of this in whom we may recommend as fully both instruction and entertainment.

1.—At a meeting of the roman Catholics appointed to prepare the petition of the county and city of Cork, to be presented this session: James Roche, —It was unanimously, at their most cordial thanks are due, presented to the Right Honorable Lord other gentlemen assembled at Fitz of Dublin, on the 23d instant, for their illegal, and constitutional conduct in: as unlawful as ill-advised, for illegally assembled for the purpose of amendment for a redress of grievances of roman Catholics.

At the above resolution, he transmitted to the Right Hon. Lord French, he will be pleased to communicate who composed that meeting

At last the unsuccessful issue of an attempt to board the Fortune frigate on a voyage we are now enabled to state the cir-all in with the enemy, we believe on engaged in a chase which promised termination. The wind, however, as to give the privateer the advantage she increased her distance in a on the frigate. The only resource to attempt her capture in boats.—
