The trial which was lately held before Sir James Mackintosh, in the East Indies, bears a remarkable resemblance to a case which will soon be more publicly divulged, in the northern part of this island. The difference is, that the atrocious and infamous offence has been fabricated by the brother, instead of the husband of an innocent woman.

The armies of the three provinces of Asturias, Gallicia and Leon, consists of 350,000 men.

We understand, in the event of the failure of Mr. Foster's mission, and the consummation of the non-intercourse act, the government of England are determined to adopt measures of retaliation, and no American vessels or property will be permitted to enter the United Kingdom.
