GENERAL ADVERTISER.

TUESDAY, SEPTEMBER 15.
 On the 10th inst. inclusive, have been the course; and such is the ponderous force they afford, that in laying it before you in copious detail, we have scarcely room for the most prominent features. In the scene of hostilities, we have the French Bulletins, dated at Smolensko, which confirm the former accounts of that place, but completely set at naught the numerous reports relative to Bonaparte. We are not very sanguine in our expectations of the success of the Russians, yet the system they have adopted and the taking of Smolensko cannot be said to be in the scale. As to the pompous French Bulletins, we will merely refer to the gasconade account of the battle of Smolensko, though they may not be entirely so, as the aid of the microscope was not used in the formation. The Russian Bulletins are as late as those of the enemy, nor as sanguine as we could wish. The report of the success of the Russians, mentioned in the authority of the Deal letter, is a fragile foundation. The report of the war between the Emperor Alexander and Napoleon, is revived;—the last Gottenburgus, that the latter left Stockholm for that purpose, and that the former was defeated at Kelsingfors. We hope the battle will now be put to the test. Affairs in the Peninsula is cheering; and the siege of Cadiz has been broken. The March has arrived with despatches from London, but it appears they are only proceeding. The French papers state that they have entered Spain, at the head of 10,000 men. Our army has also been strongly reinforced. We ardently hope that an important victory will be gained before Massena can co-operate with him.

are still without any definitive result. In our preceding columns we have extracted from the papers brought by the invasion of Canada damps the spirit, that it was what might be expected, and unfortunately continue, that co-operation is hazardous—but we cannot see any prospect of amicable adjustment. Our National Intelligencer, (the organ of the Government) stimulates our hopes.

ed the cattle, which he refused to give, and Pursell alighting from his horse, took a pistol from under his coat and was in the act of cocking it when it was perceived by the serjeant, who immediately wrested it and secured Pursell, the rest then fled, leaving a blunderbuss behind, which was also taken. Pursell and Burns were immediately transmitted to the county jail and examinations sworn against them.

At four o'clock, on Thursday last, the body of a new-born female infant was taken out of the river at the quay of Galway; it is supposed to have been first strangled, (a piece of tape having been squeezed on its neck,) and afterwards thrown in by its unnatural parent, or some monster employed for the purpose.

Thursday evening, his Majesty's gun-brig Virago, Lieut. Pittman, with new raised men, &c. sailed from Cove for Plymouth.

Major Gen. Terence O'Loughlin having been appointed to command a brigade of Life Guards in the Peninsula, the commanding officers of the Warwick, Leicester, and Fermanagh militia, composing his brigade in Dublin, have presented an address on the part of the officers of their respective regiments to the General, expressing their regret on his departure.

We are concerned to state the death of Capt. Adam Newman Dunscombe, of his Majesty's 89th regiment, brother to Mrs. James Massey, jun. of Stoneville, and Mrs. Wm. Russell, of this city—he served his country in the four quarters of the globe, was through all the active service of his regiment in India, and was wounded at the taking of Java, of the effects of which he died on the 11th November last, at Madras, in the 26th year of his age, to the inexpressible grief of his friends and brother officers.

ADARE CHAPEL.

ON SUNDAY, the 4th of October next, at two o'clock, a Sermon will be preached in this venerable Pile, in aid of its repairs, by that eminent advocate of Benevolence and Humanity, the Rev. PATRICK BOGAN.

It will be recollected that this ancient Abbey, with a splendid donation for its improvement, has been a gift of that patriotic young Nobleman, the Hon. WINDHAM QUINN, to this Parish, and an everlasting monument of his liberality and benevolence, exegi monumentum are perennius. He has set an example most worthy to be followed, and on this auspicious occasion, the Rev. Mr. LEE looks with respectful confidence to the Nobility, Gentry, and respectable neighbours of every persuasion, whose kindness has heretofore excited his warmest gratitude.

To the rising and opulent city of Limerick, he makes his appeal in silence. Its inhabitants will not suffer this opportunity of manifesting their liberality to pass unregarded; they will not suffer the Rev. Preacher, whose impressive orations have so often replenished the Lamp of Charity within their walls, to declaim unnoticed.

N. B.—Subscribers names will shortly be published Adare, Sept. 12, 1812.

BIRD-HILL INN.

MRS. KILDUFF, the Proprietor,

RESPECTFULLY informs her Friends and the Public, that she means to carry on this Establishment on the same liberal scale, as proposed by her late Husband. The Horses, Carriages, and Accommodation of the House, are of the best kind; and as the strictest attention will be paid to the order and correctness of her Servants, she hopes by every exertion on her part, to merit a share of Public Patronage.

Bird-Hill, Sept. 14.
