We are happy to learn, that a very full attendance is expected at the Charity Sermon, to be preached on Sunday next, by the Rev. Mr. Hogan, in aid of the Charity School of St. Mary's parish. Whatever difference of politics or party may otherwise exist, there happily is none in the cause of charity—indeed, there can be justly none, as charity is, or ought to be, the basis of every religion, since the creation of the world.
We are authorised to announce, that Lord Glentworth and Colonel Vereker, have both promised to attend as collectors; and we hope to see there also, the Earls of Limerick and Clare, Lords Massy and Kiltartan, the Countess of Clare, the Hon. Mr. Quin, M. P. the Hon.
Mr. Fitz-Gibbon, the Right Hon. Mr. Odell, M. P. and all the rank and fashion in our city and its vicinity.— There has been no Sermon for this Charity since July, 1811, and the Subscriptions are very small, and totally inadequate to the support of the Charity, which has for 23 years past unremittingly educated about one hundred destitute orphans—indeed it now contains one hundred and forty; and, if the Public come forward liberally, the Directors would not only extend the building to 400 or 500, but considerably encrease the comforts of the poor children.

A Gentleman just arrived from Kilkenny, has furnished us with the following description of the Black-Abbey, where the sumptuous Catholic Dinner was yesterday given to 400 guests:—This spacious apartment, 84 feet in length, by 46 feet in breadth, was lined on the sides with grey baize, and on the top with white; five tables run the whole length, and one table the upper end, at which the Dukes of Devonshire and Leinster, the Earl of Bessborough, and many other Noblemen and principal Gentlemen, were to be entertained. On Tuesday evening, six fat Bucks were sent in, and on Wednesday morning, twelve large Turbets.
We shall give the earliest account of what passed at this superb dinner.

TO THE

Gentlemen, Clergy, and Freeholders, OF THE COUNTY LIMERICK.

GENTLEMEN,

I THANK you for the confidence, so honorable to me, which you have shewn in re-electing me one of your Representatives in Parliament.

I am very proud of your good opinion, and sensible of the obligation it has imposed on me, and will ever serve you with Fidelity.

I have the honor to remain,
Gentlemen,

Your sincere and grateful Servant.

Oct. 16. WINDHAM QUIN.

TO THE

Freeholders of the County of Clare.

ENCOURAGED by the advice of my Friends, and the good wishes of many Electors, I come forward with all humility, as an anxious Candidate for the high honor of representing you in Parliament.

I urge no personal pretensions—private claims I know I have not, in comparison with those who aspire to the same distinction, except what I may derive from the partial disposition of my Friends. But, a public man, I have done my best for the public service—and as an independent Candidate, I solicit the favor of an independent County.

If, Gentlemen, in the opinion of the majority of your Electors, other men shall be deemed to deserve that favor more, it is for me to bow with deference to the decision. If, on the other hand, I shall become the object of your choice, I promise that I will serve
