highly approved of. The Wexford Regt. landed at Bristol on Monday last from Dublin. The sentence of the General Court Martial, of which Major General Cheney was President, for the trial of Colonel William Maxwell, Paymaster of the Leeds District, (the charges of which were lately given in this Chronicle,) has been promulgated.— The Court sentenced him to be dismissed His Majesty's service, and to be imprisoned in one of His Majesty's jails, until the sum of £7098 be paid.— The Prince Regent has confirmed that part of the sentence relative to his being dismissed, but states that the Court had not power by the Articles of War to imprison Col. Maxwell, but that it may be recovered from him by trial in one of his Majesty's Courts of Record.

Mr. and Mrs. Ashe leave this City to-morrow for Dublin, where they are announced for a grand Concert at the Rotunda, previous to their return to London—the impracticability of forming a suitable Band for such an occasion, has deprived our Amateurs the so much expected gratification of hearing these celebrated performers for the present.

The Countess of Clare, Lady Isabella Fitz-Gibbon, Miss Fitz-Gibbon, the Earl of Clare, and the Hon. Mr. Fitz-Gibbon, left Mount Shannon on Thursday morning, for the Atlantic Hotel, Milltown Malbay, and we are informed, that other distinguished persons intend also to go there, notwithstanding the Season is so far advanced.

During the Summer, the Atlantic Hotel has been the resort of numerous persons of distinction from various parts of the Kingdom. In justice to Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, who conduct that extensive Establishment, we can truly say, they deserve, and have acquired general approbation.

Extract of a letter, received at this office, from a Gentleman, in the Barony of Kenry, in this Co.

"Last Sunday se'nnight, Edw. Villiers FitzGerald, of Rockfield, Esq. a Justice of Peace, went to the Chapel of Kildimo, in this county, where the people came to hear Mass, he there spoke to them about the disturbance that had lately taken place in that neighbourhood; he told what would happen them, if they still went on, he begged of them, he entreated them not to continue so in future; he mentioned, that his family had long lived in the neighbourhood, beloved and respected, he himself lived in it, he wished to consider them all as neighbours & friends, he hoped they would consider him so; he begged of them not to force him to draw the sword, that if he did so, though however painful he felt it, he would never return it to the scabbard until he stained it in blood, and made that country quiet, as he formerly was obliged to do in the neighbourhood of Cappagh. Great numbers answered, that the country would be quiet, and Mr. FitzGerald left them, having the prayers and good wishes of hundreds."

Last night, a stack of corn the property of Tim. Halpin, was maliciously set on fire and consumed, and another stack belonging to the same person thrown down and scattered about, on part of the lands of Lickadon, near this City; the only cause that can be assigned, is his having tilled part of the farm held by James Fowlue, whose houses have been burned at different times by these nightly depre- dators.
