extraordinary cures performed by him, &c. well deserving very serious attention. We have received from Mr. Williams the following.

Patrick-Street, Cork, 19th Oct.
We copy the following from the Cork Phoenix of the 15th inst. which bears strong and incontrovertible evidence to the extraordinary and (we may say) unparalleled efficacy of that Gentleman's medicine.

"We have this day, dedicated a considerable portion of our columns to details which exemplify the unparalleled abilities, as an Oculist, possessed by Mr. Williams: details which from their indisputable references, strike conviction, and render incredulity dumb. From motives of humanity, those proofs should not be withheld, the inhabitants of this City and country adjacent should know what invaluable benefits await them, and of course self-preservation will dictate that the opportunity lost, may not speedily recur; more especially as we find the rich are attended to on terms unobjectionable; and the poor receive every attention without fee or reward. We have authority to say, that this benevolent gentleman will leave this City, Friday morning next the 22d inst. for Killarney, where he proposes remaining only three days. We have seen a man who called at our Office, and declares to have been (to use his own expression) stone blind for two years, but in consequence of following Mr. Williams from Ross to Waterford, Clonmel, and Youghal, he now walks about this City without a guide. The same man told us of a woman who was restored to sight at Youghal of an eye blind upwards of sixty years!! such an immediate restoration must convince us that the medicine applied is superior to every thing yet offered for the benefit of mankind. These are speaking facts: no panegyric of ours is necessary, and what still more enhances the value of the medicine is, that any one on application at No. 3, Red Lion-Square, London, post-free, may be supplied with it, and instructed in the application. We repeat it, that no person (in any way) afflicted in their eyes should neglect this opportunity."

From The Cork Advertiser, Oct. 17, we copy the following:

We are happy in submitting to our readers a copy of a letter sent to our Office, by Mr. Williams, which was received this day from two Gentlemen at Youghal, returning thanks to that Gentleman, on behalf of many persons who were benefited by him in the course of the last week at that place, one of whom now sees with one eye which had been BLIND SIXTY YEARS!!! We confess we should be a little inclined to scepticism, if we did not know that one of the signatures (Mr. R. Wood) was that of a Gentleman of great respectability, and one of our own Citizens, who is now on a visit at Youghal, for the benefit of his health.

(A literal Copy.)

"SIR—Among the many afflicted persons relieved by your valuable medicine, during the three days of your being here, among others, one woman (Catherine Connor) of this town, aged over 63 years, came to us after you were gone for Cork, and declared with much apparent joy and gratitude, that though she was blind of her right eye Sixty Years, yet by four dressings, now can see as perfectly with that eye as with the other, of which she gave convincing proof, by covering her left eye, and discerning objects minutely, and telling the kind of buttons on our coats. She begs us to return you her most grateful thanks, which we hereby do, and hoping many others will be benefited in other places.—We are, Sir, your obedient Servants,

WM. PATERSON,
RICHARD WOOD, of Cork.

To Mr. Williams, Oculist, at Cork.

SIR— is not in town at present, when here about a fortnight since, I then learnt that there had not been the least occasion to use your Medicines for several mouths, and there was sufficient supply in case it had been necessary.—This is the best proof I can give of the benefit that has been received.—I am, Sir, your faithful humble Servant,
R. P. CAREW.

To Mr. Williams, Oculist, 3, Red Lion-Square.

"It is with pleasure we record that in a very great variety of instances, benefit has been received at Clonmel, from the application of the composition of Mr. Williams, the Oculist, from London. Many have been induced, from motives of humanity, to inspect the method of treatment adopted by Mr. Williams, and from an investigation of the cases any results of his applications, to consider his plan both safe and rational. The annexed document from an eminent Physician, just put into our hands, supersedes the necessity of our saying more on the subject.—(Copied from the Clonmel Advertiser, of October 9, 1813.)

"Dr. Constable, being induced from motives of curiosity, to attend to the cases that have been under the superintendance of Mr. Williams, and his plan of treatment, whilst in Clonmel, presents him his compliments, and informs him, he can have no objection to state, that, in his opinion, several persons labouring under Ophthalmia, and other inveterate diseases of the Eyes, have been greatly benefited by the application of his composition, even during the short period of his residence in this Town. Dr. C. allows Mr. Williams to make what use he pleases of his communication.—Dated Clonmel, October 8, 1813."

"I feel it my duty to return Mr. Williams my most sincere thanks for the great benefit my Daughter received from his invaluable Medicine, which he entrusted to my care. The evening before Mr. Williams applied his Medicine to her Eyes, she did not know me at a small distance—nor could discern the blaze of a Candle, and could not see the Candle; yet, in about three days after the first application of the Medicine she could discern distinctly, and can now SEE TO THREAD a needle, or READ the SMALLEST print; and I have every expectation that a continuance of the Medicine will effectually remove the complaint.
GEO. ROBINSON.

Clonmel, Oct. 1813.

The latter paragraph was inserted in the Clonmel Newspaper by Mr. Robinson, unknown to Mr. Williams.

Copy of a Letter, dated Pavillion Tavern, New Castle-Street, Strand, London, July 21, 1813, stating the recovery of the sight of an eye, after the other Oculists in Town gave it over as a lost case—and even after they had pronounced that it was not in the power of Man or Medicine to do him any service.

"SIR—About three years and an half since, I was deprived of the sight of my left eye, without any apparent cause. I immediately applied to Mr. Phipps, and was under his and Mr. Ware's care four months, without deriving the smallest benefit whatsoever. Mr. Ware then pronounced that it was not in the power of Man or Medicine to render me any service. Since that period my right eye became weak, daily grew worse, and I have not the least doubt but I should very soon become totally blind, had I not applied to you. I have now to thank God and you, that by your invaluable Medicine, my right eye is perfectly restored, and my left (that I had lost the sight of) is so far restored, that I can discern any object, and it is daily improving.—I am, &c.
