Sunday next, the Yeomanry Brigade, of this City, will parade; a full attendance is requested, that the several corps may be drilled, previous to the review on the King's birth-day.

Lieut. Peter Lawless, of the South Mayo Regt. has been adjudged by the Prince Regent an unfit person to remain in said Regiment, he having been convicted by a Court Martial of oppression to a party of recruits he had under his command, on a route to Chelmsford, and with having borrowed money from the Serjeant-Major and several privates of the Regiment.

The Right Rev. Lord Bishop of Limerick has been pleased to appoint the Rev. Mr. Murphy to the Parish of Killyn, near Killyn, in this County—Service will be administered in said Church on Sunday next.

Sessions will be held in the following places in the County Tipperary, for registering Freeholders and Fire-arms, viz.—Templemore, 24th May; Borrisokane, 7th June; Roscrea, 21st June; Newport, 5th July; Nenagh, 15th July; Cashel, 20th July; Fethard, 2d August; Carrick-on-Suir, 16th August; Cloghen, 30th August; Thurles, 5th October; Cloamell, 19th October; Borrisoigh, 25th October; Cappaghwhite, 8th November; Caher, 23d Nov.; Tipperary, 6th December.

The attention of Gentlemen possessing Landed Property is particularly directed to the outrages committed the 16th instant, on part of the Estate of Lord Massy, near Kimallock in this County, (as advertised in our Chronicle,) as notwithstanding the Rewards offered, other depredations were made on Friday last, which make it incumbent on every Person wishing for the preservation of the Peace, to induce a discovery of such nightly miscreants.

On Sunday night, some villains set fire to and entirely consumed a Farm House, on the Lands of Killacalla, the property of Colonel Monsell, which he let to a new tenant—The Col. will pay a reward of 50l. for the apprehension of those concerned.

M. father of Lieut.-Colonel Sir Richard Fletcher, Bart. of the R. Engineers—In Rhode Island, North America, Robt. Nicholas Auchmuty, Esq. He was the only surviving brother of Major-General Sir Samuel Auchmuty—On Friday last, at Tipperary, of a spotted fever, in the 52d year of his age the Rev. Thomas Hill, Curate of that Parish, and son of Arundel Hill, Esq. of Doneraile—It has rarely fallen to our lot to record a more painful instance of premature mortality than this. Firmly believing, and vitally influenced by those sacred truths which he was privileged to make known to others—He exemplified in every scene of his life the graces and virtues of the Christian character; for was a dutiful son, an affectionate brother, a kind, anxious, and warm friend; and a pious, faithful, and zealous minister of the Gospel. He possessed the most upright, manly, and independent mind, yet softened by the greatest sweetness of disposition, and the most bland and conciliatory manners—It is needless to add how deeply lamented must be the death of one thus endowed by nature, and thus improved by religion. To his afflicted family, indeed, & to all those who had the happiness of calling him a friend, a privation so premature, so unexpected, almost so sudden, would be a source of the most inconsolable anguish, if the tender recollection of his virtues were not accompanied by the certain conviction that he has happily exchanged "the miseries of this sinful world", for the pure and tranquil joys of an eternal state, on which his affections were always fixed, and where, on genuine christian principles early imbibed, and sincerely cherished, he aspired to the enjoyment of "Glory, Honor, and Immortality."—In Portland-Row, Dublin, Richard Yending, Esq.—At Kinsale, Lieut. Edmund Benson, 76th regiment.

We are concerned to learn that John Maunsell, late a Lieutenant in the 23d Native Infantry, Bengal Establishment, son of Dan. Maunsell, Esq. Merriou-square, Dublin, was killed in October last, in India, while reconnoitring the enemy, with the light infantry company of the 1st battalion, which he commanded, and was interred with Military honors.—It may in some measure allay the poignancy of grief which the relatives of this most promising young man must feel upon this melancholy occasion, to know that he fell in the service of his Country, and (as his Officer declares,) "that his loss will be long and sincerely deplored by every officer and private sepoy in the Battalion, that he was an excellent Officer, an ornament to Society, and a treasure to his Friends, that the civil servants of Government where he had been stationed (at Nymore) agreed to join the Officers of the Battalion, in erecting a handsome monument to his memory, as a tribute of regard to his excellent character." He had acquired such a proficiency in the Persian language, that he has been employed on several occasions as an interpreter, and shortly before his death was directed to
