DIED—On Saturday, at his house, on Windmill-Hill, Cork, Aldm. Thompson, an eminent merchant in that City—during a long life he was remarkable for strict integrity in his business, an upright Magistrate, and in private, he was distinguished for every domestic virtue; in friendship, he was disinterested and sincere, and his family have to lament the loss of a fond husband and an affectionate father.—In Mecklenburgh-Street, Dublin, Mrs. Walker, wife of Samuel Walker, Esq.—In Dublin, Sarah, daughter of Thomas Grant, Esq. of Kilmurphy, Co. Cork.—In Donegal, the Rev. Nicholas Spence.—At Prospect, Co. Cavan, the wife of John Welsh, Esq.—In France, Lieut. F. Geale, 13th Light Dragoons, son of the late Frederick Geale, Esq. of Dublin.—In Grosvenor-place, the revered Duchess Dowager of Leinster.—On his passage to Lisbon, where he was going for the recovery of his health, Thomas J. Straker, Esq. of the Island of Barbadoes.—In Bury, Sir W. Doiben, Bart. of Finedon, Northamptonshire, in the 88th year of his age.—Lieut. D. Robinson, of the Ordnance Department.—In Peter-street, Dublin, on Sunday night, Mr. George Pope, of George's-street, in this City, fish tackle-maker; his remains were yesterday interred here (St. Munchin's church-yard).—John Ouseley, Esq. of Dunmore, Co. Galway, father of Mr. Gideon Ouseley, Methodist Preacher—having seen the name of his son, Lieut. Colonel Ouseley (late 63d regt.) in the Gazette, among the severely wounded, in one of the battles, near the Pyrennees, the shock was so great that, after lingering some time, he at length fell a martyr to his paternal feelings.—At the Admiralty, Horatio Nelson, fourth son of Sir Joseph York.—In Cork, the wife of Captain M'Carthy, of the City of Cork regt.—Mrs. Burnett, relict of T. Burnett, Esq. of Cork.—At Oakfield, the wife of Edmond M'Mahon, Esq.
