Castletown, April 29, 1814 - This day attived the hrig Edward, with flaxseed, which sailed from Cork on the 25th inst. She was captured on the 27th inst. within two leagues of the Skelligs focks by the potatoes out of the lockers that were for cabin use, and all the spare ropes that were in the brig. She also captured on this coast the following vessels, the crews of which were put on board the Edward, viz : brig Pelican, from the Havanuah, Smith, master, Ceres, from Buenos Ayres, Tullock, master, and the brig Commerce, from Limerick for Bilboa. The Edward was bound for Limerick, and laden by Mr. Callaghen of Cork. The master of the Pelican informed me that the Feneral Armstrong, American privateer, was also on this coast—so much for our cruisers. The Athol, Morrison; Hope, Thomas; Bagle,
