The Reply.

Cove. May 9. 1814.
Quarantotti's Decree had been figuring me days in all our public prints, I was nored by the transmission to me from f that very mischievous Document. In very real friend to the integrity of the n in Ireland, I read it with feelings of ignation.

otti's letter had reached Bath, one of the oists called upon Dr. Moylan, and said, every prospect of our attaining our ends, ust satisfy Lord Castlereagh; if the Irish only go to sleep until the Bill would pass, ainly obtain our Emancipation." The triach replied in terms of pointed indigeve me, Sir, that the Irish Bishops will will do their duty to their Flocks and to and even should every other Prelate
