We understand that one of the greatest no- velties ever seen in this country will shortly be pro- duced in Limerick—Signior Magleishi, whose pyro- technical talents have caused so much astonishment in Vauxhall Gardens, London, is making great pre- parations for a superb display of Fire works to be exhibited in the New Corn Market;—there are few spectacles more novel or more interesting than pyro- technic ones, if well conducted; and we have good authority for assuring our readers, that the abilities of Signior Magleishi stand unrivalled in his art.

The following should appear with the auction Advertisement of Quinsboro' (inserted in first page): Lord George Quin will sell the Fee of the House, Demesne, and about 100 acres of the Lands adjoining Quinsboro'. For particulars apply by letter, (post paid) to Thos. Disney, Esq. Gloucester-street, Dublin

The Sale of James Lyons, James. Property as in first Page is adjourned to the 17th October.

WATSON & MAHONY having been under the necessity of calling upon their numerous Subscribers and others, for the Payment of their Accounts, in order to meet the Expences of a heavy Establishment; they return their sincere thanks to those Friends who have kindly settled their Debts; but not having received even a reply from other Persons they regret, that they will be unavoidably obliged to have Pro- ceedings taken against those who have let their Ac- counts remain for Years undischarged.
