General Advertiser

Second Edition.

General Advertiser Office, Four o'clock.

We stop the press to announce the arrival of this day's mail, with the London papers of Tuesday by express.

Government have received more detailed accounts of the operations in Italy. They are all satisfactory. One of Murat's columns, which he commanded in person, advancing towards Occhio Bello; a second towards Ferrara; a third under Pignatelli marched upon Florence. The Austrians in the first instance fell back; Murat advanced close to Occhio Bello, where the Austrians had thrown up a tete de pont. Murat made two attacks upon it on the 8th and 9th, but was repulsed in each. He fell back upon Carpi.

Thither Marshal Bianchi followed, and attacked them on the 11th. The conflict was long and bloody, but at length the enemy were driven out of the place, with the loss of 12 Officers and 500 men. Reggio was next abandoned, and they took the route of Modena.

The column which proceeded against Ferrara, had begun operations against it, when on the 12th, the Austrian Generals, Mohr and Niepping, attacked it, drove it off the field, destroyed its works, and pursued it as far as Bologna.

The third column under Pignatelli had entered Florence. General Nugent retired to Pistora. There Pignatelli attacked him, but failed, and was driven under the walls of Florence. Two more attacks were made upon him on the 10th and 11th, but the enemy were each time repulsed with considerable loss in killed and wounded.

A Declaration of War against Murat, has, we understand, been determined upon by our Government, and will be speedily issued.

"In the different actions up to this time 2000 Neapolitan prisoners have been brought in.

"The result of all the operations in Italy proves that Murat has been obliged to relinquish the offensive. Beaten at all points he has retreated from the banks of the Po.

The Proclamation of the Lords Justices and Council of Ireland, proclaiming the Baronies of Kilmemanagh and Elio-gurty, Co. Tipperary, to be in a state of disturbance and requiring an extraordinary establishment of Police arrived too late for this day's publication.

The assessed taxes and the duty upon malt in this country are to be assimilated to those of England. This alteration will introduce some new taxes, and considerably augment others.

The report of the detention of Lord Wellington's plate, by Bonaparte, proves to be erroneous.

In the House of Commons on Tuesday se'night General Gascoyne gave notice, that he should on the following day move that it be an instruction to the committee on the property tax bill, to introduce a clause for the exemption from this tax, of the officers, whether naval or military, when engaged in actual or foreign service.

With considerable regret, we have to notice the continuation of those outrages which have, unhappily, for some time disturbed this, and the adjacent counties.—On Monday evening last, a gang of fellows having collected together for the purpose of keeping possession of a part of the lands of Mitchelstown, near Knocklong, in this county: application was very judiciously made by Messrs. Keys, Madden, and Gubbins, to Godfrey Massy, Esq. of Ballywire, (to whose prompt and vigorous exertions in the impartial discharge of his magisterial duty, we have had frequently to advert) who immediately proceeded with a party of military from Kilfinan for the place where the fellows had assembled. On the approach of

We are desired to contradict the Marriage of Strongman Kent, Esq. to Miss Toler. It was given at the Office of this Paper, by a person under the appearance of a gentleman; should the parties concerned, wish to institute a legal prosecution against this person, they shall receive every assistance in our power to punish him as he deserves.
