Mr. Ryall, Oculist and Founder to the National Infirmary of curing diseases of the Eye, in Dublin, has arrived at SWINBURN'S HOTEL, in this city, and may be consulted every Day until next Sunday, (when he departs) at the House of Mrs. HIGGINSON, Georges Street. This Gentleman has the merit of being the founder to the first and only Institution of the kind ever established in Ireland, and it affords us sincere pleasure to find, that his claims upon public favour, have been so liberally acknowledged in this City, where he has already met with great encouragement, as well as the sanction and support of some of the most respectable amongst the practitioners—a liberality of conduct reflecting upon them the highest credit.— We have in a former Paper published the Quarterly Report of the Hospital which Mr. RYALL directs, by the managing Committee of the Governors, consisting not only of the first men in the state, but of the medical profession in Dublin, whereby it appears Fifty Eight persons have been restored to Vision from total blindness within the space of nine months. This testimony is indisputable, and will we trust secure Mr. RYALL from undue prejudice or opposition. The Institution in Dublin, has been established upon the plan of that in Charter House Square London, where Mr. RYALL acquired his more intimate knowledge of those important diseases, to which he has for many years back in England exclusively confined his practice. The Medical Directors of the Institution at Charter House Square, have afforded public testimony of Mr. RYALL's competency to discharge the duties of that situation, which he has since filled with with so much public advantage.
