JOHN CORMICK, A BANKRUPT.

The Bankrupt was brought up on Tuesday before Baron George, by Habeas Corpus, for the purpose of discussing the legality of his committal by the Commissioners. After hearing counsel on both sides, his Lordship declared that the answers of the Bankrupt to the questions propounded to him, were, in every respect, unsatisfactory, and that public justice imperatively called upon the commissioners to commit the Bankrupt to Newgate, whither his Lordship remanded, him.—Sanders's News Letter.
