

the house of Richard Lalor, of Cascade, near oriced in our last, though desperate, was for-ful. It is thought that the villains expected tance, as Mr. Lalor had left home on Suns, and as his eldest son dined at Johnstown might not be aware of his return home that elve o'clock the attack commenced. Two break in the hall door with a sledge, but did the same moment the parlour and drawing n either sides of the hall door were smashed a ladder broke the office or study win-a wattle. The noise aroused Mr. Lalor's called out, "who is there?" The fellow ends in the parlour will let you know." The drawing room doors being locked, the penetrate farther into the house that way, getting out to effect a breach in some other am Lalor, having armed himself with a d his chamber window and fired down at aim as to wound a fellow who was parlour window. In the meantime, the ed into the town and given the alarm,— rousing some of the inhabitants, this to the church yard, got hold of the bell ently, until he alarmed the whole of the up, and with great alacrity hastened to but the villains, either hopeless from the e, or alarmed by the ringing of the bell, with them their wounded companion—d the country for some time, headed by s, but without success. From the quanat the house, and traced a considerable ning, there is little doubt that the fellow mortally wounded. It is due to the and his Goadjutor, to state, that these mselves, in concert with the neighbour-he inhabitants of the town, to the utmost ders, who, however, have escaped for his reason to hope that they will not long justice. The gallant behaviour of Mr. rother, affords another lesson to the ty of Kilkenny is not destined to be-their atrocities, and that steady and to the audacious attempts on life and successful.—Kilkenny Moderator.

 gs, both parties, as it would seem by ointment, mustered their forces at the ves and fully resolved on battle, and ckly commenced, which raged for violence. Happily for public peace, ombatants themselves, the detachment itationed in Maguiresbridge were into ply upon the Shannon, between this City and Kilkish—this Packet is elegantly fitted up to accommodate Passengers, and has been plying at Cork last year with considerable success—another Boat being just ready to launch on Cork river, the owners of the present one have come to the resolution of trying her here—and we have no doubt they will meet that encouragement they so well deserve from a discerning public, as they were the first to introduce the dis-cription of vessel into this country.

The benefits likely to result from the facilities of intercourse, presented by this mode of conveyance are incalculable; and the advantages to those places, at present considered remote from Limerick, very great—it is ascertained that the passage to and from Kilkish, will be made against all obstacles of wind and tide, in 8 hours; and may be often accomplished in 4 hours, so that, during the Summer, the Packet will leave Limerick in the morning, and arrive again in the evening, performing a voyage, during the day, of nearly One Hundred Miles.

Some articles omitted this post for want of room.

Committee of Independents. 108

THE SUBSCRIBERS and FRIENDS to the INDEPEN-DENCE of Limerick are informed, that a further Adjournment of the Meeting, Advertised for this Day, has been deemed expedient, in consequence of the unavoidable absence of Lord Viscount GLENTWORTH.
 They have, however, the satisfaction to state, that communications of considerable importance to the cause have been this day made to them, and that they have fixed on Wednesday the 22d Instant, when a full attendance of the Friends to the Independence of this City, is requested, at the hour of Two o'Clock at the
