Thomas Crowe, Esq. agent to some of the first fortunes in the county has liberally subscribed, and we further anticipate an enlightened exertion on his part to impress upon the hearts and heads of his absentee Principals, the paramount duty of doing something for the poor of a country that enables them to live, elsewhere, in princely independence. We understand that John O'Donnell Esq. of Ennis, is treasurer to the fund we speak of, and from what we know of Mr. O'Donnell's active and intelligent mind and liberal disposition, the cause or interests of the poor cannot be in better hands.

Friday, seven convicts, six men and a woman, arrived in Ennis, escorted by a party of the 12th foot, from Galway, on their way to Cork for transportation. The two men on whom sentence of death at last Ennis Assizes, viz. Andrew M'Mahon, for the robbery of Pat. Mahon of Newpark Esq. and Laurence Kelly, for rioting and assault at Mullogh, were transmitted with the above convicts, their punishment being committed to transportation.

Yesterday morning, a woman named Mary Massy, was found dead in a house in the Boreheen, co. Clare—the unfortunate woman went to rest, in a state of Drunkenness—An inquest was held on the body—verdict accordingly.

Saturday night it blew a smart gale, which did some trifling damage in Ennis, but providentially no accident occurred. A small house in the suburbs of that town was blown down, but the family escaped unhurt.

The Lord High Chancellor has appointed George W. Hodger, Esq. of Landscape, Doonas, a Magistrate for the County Clare.

The Lord Bishop has been pleased to appoint the Rev. William Wray Maunsell, to be Vicar General of this Diocese, vice Radcliffe, appointed Vicar General of Ireland.

On Friday night, a party of military left Belfast, in a private manner, to arrest several persons charged with the destruction of Mr. Adair's house, at Ballynahinch. The neighbourhood of Crumlin is where the arrests were to be made. We have not heard whether the party were successful in their object.

Last Saturday, a man named Aston, who was conversing in a shop in Dundalk, apparently in good health, dropped down, and all means to reanimate him failing, an inquest was held on his remains, by Lennox Biggar, Esq. and a verdict returned—"Died by the visitation of God."

Shocking Occurrence.—Paris, Dec. 21.—Yesterday, about seven o'clock in the morning, a woman living at the corner of the streets Forez and Alps, behind the Temple, in a fit of frenzy, of which the cause is yet unknown, threw two of her children out of the window of a third floor. The one was eight or ten months old, and the other two years and a half. They fell lifeless into the street. Their wretched mother threw herself afterwards out of the same window, and broke both her arms. It is said that her eldest child was gone to the baker's to fetch bread at the time, and that he owed his life to that circumstance.

Samuel Dickson, of this city, at present in Bath, has ordered Twenty Five pounds to be paid as his subscription to the fund for relief of the poor in Limerick.

Another proof of active benevolence was given yesterday by a meeting of the City of London Tavern, consisting of merchants, gentlemen, and others, connected with the trade to Ireland, for the purpose of raising a subscription for the immediate relief of the distressed Irish labourers in this country. A more laudable object could not well be entertained. Mr. Blake introduced the business of the meeting, and depicted with great force and feeling the miserable situation in which he had witnessed numbers of his starving fellow countrymen. The subscription was commenced by several donations of £20 and the amount promises to be considerable.—Globe.

Reform.—A legal and most beneficial reform is in progress in the Isle of Man, and will be effectuated by the Lieutenant Governor and his Majesty's Attorney General.—Its primary object is to put a stop to the nefarious subject of appeals from the judgments and decisions obtained in the Courts of the Island, and not prosecuting (hemi—by which means, even the insular creditor is sometimes defrauded; and the stranger has been frequently robbed of his property, because he could not personally appear to vindicate his claim.

The following is a copy of Lord Donoughmore's answer to Mr. Coppinger's application to his Lordship to present the petition of the Roman Catholics of the County and City of Cork to the House of Lords:— (COPY.)

Knocklofty, 24th Dec. 1816. Dear Sir—I have been duly favoured with your communication of the 14th inst. on the part of the Catholics of the County and City of Cork. The selection which they have again made of me as their parliamentary advocate, is truly gratifying to my feelings. At that honorable post, I can venture to promise, that they will ever find me watchful and zealous.

For the kindness with which you have apprized me of the late resolutions of my catholic friends, I request you to accept my best acknowledgments; and let me, at the same time, express my regret, that the accidental circumstance to which you have alluded, should have given you the trouble of writing a second time upon the same subject. I remain, Dear Sir, very truly yours, DONOUGHMORE.

Thomas S Coppinger, Esq. of Leemount, Chairman of the aggregate meeting of the Catholics of the Co. and City of Cork.

At one of the late trials for crim. con. in London, the question was put by a jurymen, from the box, to the witnesses on behalf of the plaintiff, "If he (the plaintiff) had permitted his wife to walk." The bench, after the trial, asked the tendency of the question.—"Why, my Lord, (said the juror,) had we found it to be the case, it would have a material weight with me and my fellow jurors in mitigation of damages, if, indeed, we could have considered that was entitled to any damages whatever, who permitted his wife openly to commit such an outrage, as we consider it, against all decency and good morals."

in great danger. On Friday, Jane Johnston, a farmer's wife, on the north side of Springbank, near Glasgow, was killed by a lad handling a fowling piece in her own house.—This is another melancholy instance of the improper use of fire arms, and it ought certainly to operate as a warning.

CORK, JAN. 1.—The same inactivity continues in grain, as our last announced; Oats have in consequence of the short supply coming in advanced to 49s. and are much sought for to use in distillation, and for the English ports. Eyers.

DEATHS.—Saturday week, in London, John Bagwell, Esq. late of Marlfield. He had been many years Member of Parliament for the county Tipperary, and Colonel of the county Militia: He had married, early in life, Mary, the daughter of the late Mr. Hare, of Cork, and sister of Lord Ennismore; one of the most amiable women of her time and country; and by her he has left several children, of whom the eldest son, the Right Hon. Wm. Bagwell, Joint Muster Master General, succeeds to his estates. In his public and political life he was characterized by steady resolution and indefatigable perseverance; in his private and personal relations, his conduct was kind, tender, and indulgent, towards his family, his domestics, and his tenantry; and in the social intercourse of life, he displayed genuine hospitality, accompanied by very superior suavity of manners. His age might be supposed about 56. Though possessing a robust constitution, he had enjoyed for some few years but an impaired state of health, and was taken off rather suddenly by an inflammation of his bowels.—Suddenly, in the 22d year of his age, on the 25th of December, Jonathan Gatchell, Esq. jun. one of the society of friends, by the bursting of a blood vessel of the head, in a field adjoining Waterford.—In Cork, Catherine Parks, daughter of the late much respected Alderman Parks, of that city.—In Tuckey street, Cork, Augustus Sheehan.—In George's street, Cork, after a very short illness, Mr. John Blackledge, Shoemaker.—On Saturday last in Galway, Hyacinth Daly, Esq.—A few days since of a jaundice at Corofin, county Clare, Donat M Mahon, Esq. son of the late Terence M'Mahon, Esq. of Dromore in said Co.—His cheerful and engaging manners, endeared him to all friends, and in his dealing and transactions with the world, he so conducted himself as to merit the good opinion of mankind.—On Sunday week, at the Dominican Convent, Sligo, the Rev. Richard Prendergast—Wednesday morning, at Sunday's Well, Cork, Michael Hore, Esq.—At Lucan, in the 71 year of his age, Sir John White—the oldest and one of the most upright Magistrates of the county of Dublin.—In Henry street, on Tuesday last, after a short illness, Mrs. Burke, wife of Lieutenant Burke, formerly of the 45th regt. of foot.—Yesterday morning, in Mary street, Mr. Joseph Anderson, much lamented.

NOTICE. MEADE & FENNEL request a Meeting of their Creditors at Mr. MEADE'S house, George's street, on SUNDAY, the 12th inst. at one o'Clock, when they propose to lay before them a Statement of their Affairs, calculated, they hope, to give them perfect satisfaction. Limerick, Jan. 3, 1817.

TO BE LET, From the Twenty-Fifth March Next, With or Without a Fine, FOR LIVES RENEWABLE FOR EVER—OR FOR SUCH TERM AS MAY BE AGREED ON, The House, Offices, Garden and Demesne of NEWBOROUGH, CONSISTING OF ONE HUNDRED AND THIRTY ACRES.

THESE Lands are remarkable for Fattening, Dairy, or Tillage, with a conveniency of Turbary, two excellent Orchards in full bearing, within Six Miles of Limerick, and Two of Adare, and within one mile of the first pack of bounds in the kingdom, in the centre of a sporting country, which renders it a desirable residence;—there has been lately a large sum of money expended on the premises. To convenience a Tenant the demesne would be reduced to Fifty Acres. Proposals to be received by CHRISTOPHER ADAMSON, Esq. Newborough, Adare, GEO. TUTHILL, Esq. Faha, who will close with a solvent tenant soon as the value is offered.—Proposals may also be left at Mr. M. DONNELL'S, Proprietor of this Paper.—Letters post paid. Dec 18, 1816.

THE President, Directors, and Committees of Proprietors in Ireland, acquaint the Public, that the business of this Company will in future be conducted upon new principles, and that the persons assured as well against Fire as upon Lives, will periodically enjoy a full participation of the Profits, after a moderate deduction for the expenses of management, and compensation for the guarantee Capital of the Company.

LIFE OFFICE.

On all Policies for £100 and upwards, made for the whole term of Life, the Assured will, at the expiration of every seventh year, have an addition of profit to be then ascertained upon principles of correct calculation. The amount of such Profit may be applied in either of the following ways, at the option of the person assured, viz.

- 1st.—By making addition to the sum specified in the Policy payable at the death of the party, as hitherto practised at the Equitable Life Assurance Office.
- 2d.—By applying the amount in reduction of the annual Premium.
- 3d.—By redeeming the future payments of premium, viz. when the amount of such profit shall be equal to the then value of the future annual payments, the same may immediately cease; or where it shall not amount to the full value of the future annual payments, the like redemption may be effected on payment of the difference.

The Tables of Rates of Premium are the same as those in use at the Equitable Office, with the superior advantages now offered by this Office to the public.

Tables of rates are also framed, according to which, Persons may assure a Sum Certain for the whole term of life, by paying an increased Premium for a fixed number of years, and be free from all farther Payment thereafter; and will equally participate in the profits, the same as if they continued to pay the Annual Premium.

N. B.—Life Policies issued by this Company will be purchased by the Directors at an equitable valuation, which in general amounts to more than One Third of the Premiums paid thereon.

FIRE OFFICE.

The assured by all Policies for £300 and upwards, continuing in force for five years (and no Claim for Loss paid thereon,) will be entitled to a full participation in the Profits made in that period; together with the beneficial advantage of a considerable Guarantee Fund, which will not only improve their own Security, but also preclude the possibility of being called upon to make good the Losses of others. Losses are paid immediately on the Amount being sustained.

Farther information, with printed particulars, will be given on application at the Principal Office, Cheapside, London; or by the Committees or Agents, in the several Cities and Towns throughout the United Kingdom.

Policies becoming due at Christmas should be renewed before the 9th of January—otherwise they will be void.

JOHN CARROLL, Agent for Limerick.

The Public will please to observe, that the Atlas Office possesses the advantage of having a complete Fire Engine Establishment in this City.

Atlas Assurance Office, Commercial Buildings, Dec. 27, 1816.
