

not been either can give even a and such an as-ous shoutings of
y hum of man,
us.”
author of Ger-ents it, to mur-ty of his critileman has pub-n - which he was ned, and of his t instead of dee case will soon orted, intended as Lord Coch-
April 3.
ay afford no in-ance. Indeed,
t that has lately
e following is a high in official inistry: we sup-e have also been ation, with much reel, March 31.
Lordship may be
will be much bud I therefore take ollection, that seotions by the Ope to you, that the till to be voted.—
bjects, the House
ere is reason to be meeting after the tion will be very
the honour, &c.
w lying in Calais
sitting the arrival England.

on the subject, the private letters from Sweden contain various particulars. According to these, six assassins had been introduced secretly into the palace to murder the Prince, but a timely discovery of their designs prevented the accomplishment of their wicked purpose. The great danger to which the life of the Crown Prince has been exposed having generally transpired, the people crowded from all quarters to ascertain that the Prince was safe. The mob surrounded the palace, and insisted on seeing him. On presenting himself at the balcony, he was loudly cheered, and good order was entirely restored. Another version of the affair reached Hamburgh, according to which the life of the Crown Prince was threatened by a lawless mob, who surrounded the King's palace, with the avowed object of slaying him. In consequence, couriers were sent off by the King, to hasten troops to the Capital. Meanwhile the King proposed to the Prince to conceal him until the army should arrive. His Royal Highness expressed his contempt of death, and persisted in his intention of shewing himself to the mob, and to learn in what he had offended. With this view, he presented himself at the balcony, and addressed the people to the following purport: "Good people, I never solicited the honour to approach the throne of Sweden. I came amongst you by your own free choice, and since the first moment I entered Sweden, I have constantly fulfilled my duties, not only as a Captain but as a Co-Regent, I can now only say if you should consider my death as an advantage to Sweden, my life is at your disposal." During this short address a solemn silence prevailed, and when it was finished, the Prince was greeted with loud and repeated acclamations of joy, and with shouts of "Long live the King!—Long live the Crown Prince!" In all the letters received from Denmark, not a word is said of this affair; nevertheless the fact is not disputed; the only circumstance which is involved in doubt, is the manner in which the life of the Crown Prince was attempted.

ARRESTS AT PARIS.

A Paris Paper of Monday se'night states that the Count De Croquembourg, formerly a captain in the French service, was arrested on Friday se'night, and carried before the Prefecture of Police. His papers have been seized. M. Armand de Briquerville has also been arrested. "Both," says the French Journal, "are accused of carrying on an improper correspondence with the exiled traitors in Belgium."

NAPOLEON.

Letters from St. Helena, to the 29th Jan. states that Napoleon was well at that date, but that he suffered great uneasiness of mind, and manifested much displeasure at the restraints which he was compelled to endure. On the 17th of January he ventured abroad, which he had not done for a long time before, to visit Madame Bertrand, who had recently been delivered of a son.

PRINCESS OF WALES.

One of the Dutch papers contains the following notice respecting the Princess of Wales, dated Vienna, March 12:—"We expect here shortly her Royal Highness the Princess of Wales from Munich. She intends to go from this place to..."

Liverpool—1 579 do. oats, 48 firkins 42 cwt. butter, 120 brls. pork, J. & A. F. O'Neill—Betsey for Glasgow—940 brls. oats, T. Harle—Helen, for do.—1050 do. do. David Hunt—Sally, for St. John's Newfoundland; 300 barrels 60,000lb pork 16 tierces 4,800lb. beef, 300 firkins, 160 cwt. butter, 25 brls. 46 cwt. oatmeal, 100 brls. 100 cwt. flour, 220 bags 220 cwt. bread, Harvey & Co.—St. Nicholas, for Londonderry—25 tons oatmeal, Harvey & Co.—Pomona, for Belfast—1,709 barrels oats, William White—Eliza, for Londonderry—40 tons oatmeal, Harvey & Co.—Crawford, for Belfast—700 brls. oats, Wm. White—7 casks 73 cwt. tallow, J. & J. M'Namara—100 bags 80 brls. wheat, J. & W. Hill—100 puncheons 13,350 gallons whiskey.

BIRTH.

This morning at her father's house in this city, the lady of George Sexton, Esq. of a son.

MARRIED.

Edm. Kirwan, Esq. of Ballyturin, county Galway, to Miss Anne Lambert, daughter of Henry Lambert, Esq. of Aggard, in the same county—At Cambray, in France, Deputy Assistant Commissary General Ree, to Elizabeth, eldest daughter of the late Captain Bodan, of Edinburgh.

DIED.

In Dublin, Henry Lewis, Esq.—At the Hot Wells, Bristol, Stephen Radcliff, midshipman, son of Dr. Radcliff, of Dublin—In London, the Lady Francis Douglas, wife of the Hon. John Douglas, and eldest daughter of the Earl of Harewood—At Barbadoes, on the 13th Dec Lieut. Andrew Richmond, of the 2d, or Queen's, son of the late Major Richmond, of the Scots Greys—At Edenderry, Charles Dunlop, Esq. late major of his Majesty's 18th, or Royal Irish regt.—Yesterday on Charlotte's Quay, Mrs. Hogan wife of John Hogan James, Esq. cloth merchant, of George's Street and Charlotte's Quay—Amiable in disposition—kind and conciliating in manners, she deserved and enjoyed the affection of her relatives, the esteem and respect of all—We could dwell with delight on her unnumbered virtues, but we repress that tribute her worth demands—Our sympathy must not rive the unhealed wounds of a Husband, bereaved of her who cheered his path through life—or swell the torrent which bedews the cheeks of her infant offspring, to whom she has left the bright example of a life well spent.

Same day, on Arthur's Quay, aged 82, George Keating, Esq. M. D.—a man possessing the best of hearts, and combining the ease and manners of a perfect gentleman, with the eminent qualifications of his profession. He was an affectionate husband, a tender father, a kind master, and an honest man. Such were the public and private virtues of this excellent individual; esteemed by his fellow citizens, and beloved by his family, he sinks into the grave, leaving the remembrance and example of a well spent life as the best and most cheering preparation for eternity.

DUBLIN MARKET, APRIL 5.—With respect to our corn market yesterday, the following extract, from a private letter from Liverpool, dated the 1st inst. will apply to it:—

"So little business was transacted during the last week, or at the adjacent corn markets, that the value of almost every article of trade could with difficulty be ascertained; and with a liberal supply of samples, the same dullness prevails to day; it is therefore impossible to quote with accuracy, the prices obtainable for any kind of grain; the currency for each must therefore be considered nominal."

The distillers have been latterly holding back; and if the country distillers would agree with those in Dublin, we have no doubt but they would all stop within a fortnight. It seems to be the general opinion that they will stop as soon as their month expires. The apathy and dullness which prevails over our markets, seem to extend to all the markets throughout Great Britain.

The better kinds of wheat have very much declined in price; samples, which a few weeks back would have brought 90s. to 95s. would not now sell for more than 70s. to 75. inferior kinds, however, are stationary.

Chamber of Commerce Rooms,
LIMERICK, 7TH APRIL 1817

AT a Meeting of the Directors of the Corporation of the Chamber of Commerce of Limerick, held for the purpose of considering the best means of promoting the Linen and Hempen Manufacture in this part of Ireland,
It was Resolved—

That the encouragement of the SKILFUL cultivation

LIMERICK PRIC
Barley, Is. 5d to
28s. 39s. to 0s. per cwt—Flour 42s 0d
28 to 30s 0d—Beef,
prlb—Tallow, 6s. 6
to 5d. per stone.—
Butter—94. 84. 74
Exchange on Wed

Spring

IN compliance with Tickets and Share moderation; and they
SIX PO
than the price at which The Scheme also poss
instead of containing Fo
the present contains m

- 2 Prizes of.....
- 2
- 2
- 2
- 4
- 6
- 10
- 10
- 20
- 40
- 2,000

8,000 { Prizes, of a Lottery, to l
which may

10,098 Prizes,
4,502 Blanks.

14,600 Tickets. Fir
Every Prize above such Prize, to one of Ticket or Share may Lottery, but after that Lottery.

+ The Lottery to be sist only of the 8000
Scheme, and will conta
£2,000, besides others
of which must be ga Lottery, who have the or selling them for £15

Tickets and S
EDW. BERNARD
J. WATSON, and ER

For

THE Good Brig.
M'NICE, Mas
above Port, by the Freight or Passage,
at the Custom House
Commercial Building

The Irish and Trim
NEARLY OP

UNTHANK

HAVE just receiv
Woolens, whi
plies complete their Trimming Line, whi
most reasonable term

FISHERS
Next the Post Off

Advertiser

APRIL 3, 1817.

Papers from the e.

e to good order
is more melanidemic character
Stafford, Lanca-
and Wales, ac-
sonable associaests of those coun-ny cases, are but fancy—feeble in quire strength by

NTING AT 4

(says a London
k have it in con-ling at 4 per cent-rise to-day, and