TRALEE, APRIL 14.—The 2d bat. of the 30th regt. commanded by Colonel Hamilton, quartered here for the greater part of the last year, have received the route for Fermoy, and are to march to-morrow. The liberality of the officers and men of this fine corps evinced by their handsome donation in aid of the charitable fund established for the relief of the poor of this town, must long be remembered with gratitude—and the exemplary good conduct of those brave men "the laurel'd Heroes of Waterloo," renders their departure hence a subject of regret to every class of the inhabitants. They are to be replaced by the 81st regt. the first division of which marched in this day under the command of Colonel Farrer.

County and City of Waterford Catholic Petition.

SHEWETH—That your Petitioners, as has been set forth in their several humble Petitions heretofore presented to this Honourable House, are, by divers Statutes, still of force within this Realm, rendered liable to many incapacities and restrictions not imposed upon any other description of his Majesty's subjects.

Against the severity of such Statutes Petitioners respectfully appeal to the generosity of this Honourable House, on the following principles viz:—That such Acts are repugnant to the character and habits of Englishmen, and to the genius of the British Constitution; that they are not, from the circumstances in which they were formed, intended to be eternal.

Our forefathers were excluded from the franchises when the tumult of civil war had scarcely been appeased, whilst the animosities they produced were recent, and at the close of the convulsion incidental to a widely extended revolution of property. They were excluded at a moment when the settlement was precarious and new; upon which time and habit, the extinction of all other claims, common principles of obedience, and common interests, have now conferred all the solidity of unquestioned and immutable establishment.

Your Petitioners beg leave to represent to this Honourable House, that the present tranquil state of Ireland, under all the calamity in which she most participate with the rest of Europe, affords such a striking testimony of a spirit of loyalty and obedience to the law, as lays a strong claim on the liberality of this Honourable House.

Petitioners do humbly represent, in as much as it may appear necessary to guard the church and state against the exercise of foreign influence in the appointment of Roman Catholic Bishops, that they are most anxious to satisfy the apprehensions of their Protestant countrymen, and will cheerfully concur in the plan of domestic nomination, as recommended by their Prelates; but were they to assent to the arrangements which they conscientiously believe would endanger the integrity or security of their church, they submit, with deference, that such conduct would rather merit the distrust than the confidence of all those who are stedfast in the support of their own religious opinions.

May it, therefore, please this honourable House to take into its consideration the statutes, penal and restrictive, now affecting Petitioners, and admit them to the full enjoyment of those privileges which every Briton regards as his best inheritance, and which your Petitioners most humbly presume to seek for, as the brethren of Englishmen, and co-heirs of the constitution.

And your Petitioners will ever pray, &c.

Considerably above three thousand tons of provisions have been brought into the city of Dublin within the last fortnight, by means of the Grand Canal only.

On the night of Friday the 11th inst. some villains entered that part of the lands of Collinstown, in the parish of Lusk lately occupied by Thomas Maguire, and now in the possession of Patrick and Edward Seavers, and having destroyed the ploughs, harrows, and other farming utensils belonging to said Seavers, left on the ground the following notice or threat, in writing:—

"Mr. Seavers what we have don this night is only Caasuan to you if you com within this land any more, your life will pay for it & burn yr house & cattle."

The Rev. Michael Boote, of Phibsborough Avenue, the owner of the lands, has offered a handsome reward for the discovery of the offenders.

Wednesday morning, Patrick Sheehy, convicted at our last assizes, for sheep stealing, and sentenced to be flogged, was taken under a military escort to Ballingary, to receive his punishment.
