 We publish in preceding columns a long report of the proceedings at the Tholstel of Galway, on the 1st of this month.
 County Wicklow election commences this day—Mr.
 Parnell the only candidate named.
 In a seduction case tried at Exeter assizes, Small v. Parsons, the jury awarded £100 damages.
 In an action for breach of promise of marriage, tried at Leicester assizes, Cooper v. Everton, the defendant obtained a verdict of £1000 damages—Plaintiff's brother was married to a sister of defendant's—defendant seduced plaintiff, had a child by her, promised her marriage, but afterwards refused, telling her she would get all the law would allow, two guineas for her lying in, and 2s. 6d. per week for 7 years, for the child if she proved it to be his in a court of justice before a magistrate. Both parties are of highly respectable families.
 The stores of Mr. Yates, at Ringsend, were broken open on Tuesday night and several puncheons of whiskey carried off in Kegs.—A part of the stolen property has been recovered, and some of the fellows have been secured.

Royal Exchange, Dublin—Saturday—Meeting of creditors —Meade & Fennell, Limerick, final examination—S. Kildahl, agent.

Gov. Deb. .... 5 per cent. ....	105—5½
Exchange, Dub. on Lon, 9½.

At the Corn Exchange, London, on Wednesday, prices were rather looking down.

Sligo market is well supplied with provisions of every kind—good new potatoes, 8d. per stone. Butter, first quality, 92s. 6d. to 93s per cwt. Flour, first, 5s. 9d. per stone.—
 Oatmeal, per 120lb, 27s. to 28s.

Waterford Markets, August 8—Butter, 1st 93s.— Oatmeal 26s. to 28s. per cwt.—Wheat 30s. to 40s. per brl.—Oats 22s.

The fair of Aghadoo was very well attended on the 2d inst.—not a lamb left unsold—the highest was £17 per score—the lowest £12—Black cattle in great demand—Wool from 20s. to 22s. per stone of 16lbs.

New potatoes sell in Wexford at 6d. per stone. A field of wheat was last week reaped on the lands of Ballyconnigar near that town—New Barley Meal was in the market ten days ago.

New Bere was sold in Kilkenny market, on the 7th inst. at 17d. per stone—New Oats was expected in that market in eight or ten days—the oats sown in the last summer are much earlier and heavier than usual.

LIMERICK MARKET, August 9—In corn there is very little variation—Wheat 2s. to 2s. 4d. per st.— Oats 1s. 8d. to 1s. 9d.—Potatoes, at 5½d and 6d—from the great quantity of this article coming to market, we may confidently expect a large reduction in price, and there can be no apprehension of their being now kept back, as there is a redundancy.

DIED.

On Saturday last, Wills Crofts, Esq. of Riverston, near Nea-nagh—He was a Gentleman, whose general conduct and deportment through life was marked with the most honorable stamp—against his fair and unsullied fame, calumny ne'er dared to breathe—he was universally beloved and esteemed in that respectable circle in which he always moved, who could best appreciate his value, and who now deplore his loss with the most unfeigned regret—His tenants have been deprived of their landlord, their patron, their protector, and their friend —After a tedious illness, in his 23d year, and whilst on a visit with his relation, Mr. Zouch, in Dublin, Richard Henry Drake, Esq. much lamented by his relations, and regretted by all who knew him at Harrow and at Cambridge.—He was next heir to a large property, and the only son of the Rev.
 Thomas Drake, D. D., of Rochdale, in Lancashire—In Galway, Mr. Foster Griffin, apothecary and druggist—In Bath, George Whitehead, Esq. formerly an eminent banker in London—On Sunday evening, on Basil's Bridge, Mrs.
 M'Ardeil, relict of the late Mr. H. M'Ardeil of this city—she was a very amiable woman, and discharged all the relative duties in the most exemplary manner—At Walworth, Miss M. Gilbert—In London, Benjamin Hall, Esq. M. P. for Glamorgan—In London, aged 67, the Rev. S. Partridge, M. A. F. A. S.—In Cork, Mr. T. Wise—At Muff, co.
 Derry, the Rev. H. Elder, Presbyterian Minister of the parish of Foughenvale.—In Galway, Wm Skerrett, Esq. of Finavara, co. Clare, brother in law of the late Phil Roche, John, Esq. and Charles Roche, Esq. of Leixlip, near Dublin—to depict the numerous virtues of this most exemplary character, would indeed be a difficult task—as a father, husband, friend, he was every thing that a man should, every thing that a man could be—the tears and sighs of his afflicted relatives and friends, speak his eulogium more eloquently, & afford a juster idea of his worth, than it is in the power of language to display.—In Henry street, Mrs. Hogan.—At Jamaica, in June last, Mr. Hill, a celebrated singer.—In London, Robert B. Jones, Esq. aged 67.—At Carlown, Capt. J. Jones, of the City Cork Militia —In Nenagh, Mr. J. Burke.—At Littleton, co. Tipperary, Miss Grady, daughter of the Rev. Thos. Grady, very much lamented.
 —On the 2d of Sept. at Batavia, Captain J. Watt, who was on the eve of his return home, and on the 15th April following, at the Cape of Good Hope, his brother, William Watt, Esq.—At Clontarf, near Dublin, Mrs. Norris, daughter of Mrs. Kirchoffer of Russell Place.—On the 2d inst. Francis, daughter of C. Harrison, Esq. of Tomga, county Wexford.—In Surrey, Samuel Johnson, Esq. aged 70, of the Hon. East India Company's service —Mrs.
 Tempest widow of the late J. Tempest, Esq. M. P. for the city of Durham.—In Dublin, J. G. Battier, Esq. formerly major in the 5th foot—In Skibbereen, Barth. Casey, Esq. late of Dublin.—At Gaybrook, county Westmeath, Ralph Smyth, Esq.—This country will long deplore the loss of one of its brightest ornaments the poor in him have lost a most liberal benefactor, and his surrounding tenantry an amiable and indulgent landlord—In Patrick street, on Sunday evening, Master Michael Brown, son of the late Mr. M.
 Brown, woollen draper—He was a fine lively boy, and gave an early promise of great literary talent.
