FASHIONABLE WORLD.

COUNTESS OF CLARE'S ROUTE IN LONDON.

The Countess of Clare gave a splendid Ball on Fri- day evening, at her elegant residence, Savillerow.— The three drawing rooms were brilliantly illuminated, particularly the last, which was ornamented with ex- quisite painting on glass. The hall and staircase, the lower suit of rooms, &c. were correspondently fitted up. Dancing commenced with quadrilles and con- cluded with waltzes. The first were led off by the ac- complished Lady Isabella Fitzgibbon and the Marquis of Exeter—Next followed:—

Sir William Elliott, Mr. Standish, Mr. Bradshaw. Hon. Mr. Byng, Captain Burdett, Mr. Wm. Borrell, Lady F. Molyneux, Miss Tyrwhitt Jones, Lady C. Os- borne, Lady H. Hill, Lady J. Lennox, Lady S. Spencer.

The apartment which is ornamented with bijoutry, was appropriated for serving out the refreshments in; the rarest fruits and finest wines. The dancing com- menced at half past eleven, and continued, with little intermission, until six o'clock in the morning. Pre- viously to the company retiring, they were entertained with an elegant dejeune. Present:—

The Austrian Ambassador, the Prince Esterhazy, also the other Foreign Ministers except the French; Duke of Grafton and the Ladies Fitzroy; Duchess of Marlborough; Dowager Duchesses of Leeds and Rut- land; Duke of Bedford and the Ladies Russell; Du- chess of Argyle and Lady Jane Paget; Marchioness of Conyngham and the Ladies Conyngham; Marchioness of Cholmondely and Lady Charlotte Cholmondely; Marquis and Marchioness of Worcester; Marchioness Dowager of Downshire and the Ladies Hill; Countess of Carhampton; Dowager Countess of Rossmore, Earls of Westmoreland and Stair; Lord and Lady Burghersh; Lord Lynedoch, Lady Lynedoch, Lady Sophia Fitzgerald; General and Lady Aegil; General Grosvenor; Colonel Upton, Lady A. Colling Smith, Lady E. Palk, and Miss Palk; Lord St. Helens, Mr. Chancellor Linch, Lady and Miss Flood; Lord & Lady Massy; Lord Cahir, Mr. F. Greville, Countess of Antrim and Mr. Mac Donnell; Mrs. John G. Villiers, Mrs. Parker, Mrs. and Miss Robinson; Drummond Burrell, Countess Dowager of Essex, Countess of Sef- ton, and Lord Stewart; Viscount Dillon, Viscount Palmerston, Countess Lieven, Viscount Forbes, Hon. Mr. Forbes, Viscount Cranbourn, Mrs. and the Misses Mitchell, Lord Alvanly, Lady Amherst and Lady H. Windsor; Mrs. A. Stanhope, and Miss Stanhope.

Sunday the Earl of Clare left Mountshannon for London.

Major Gen. Sir Wm. P. Carroll, and lady, are at present on a visit at Thornville, the seat of Colonel Bourke.

On Wednesday, the Rt. Hon. Lord Muskerry, arrived at Capt. Keane's, in this city, from Dublin, for Kerry.

Sir Francis Burdett is on a visit at Mr. Bennett's (the Barrister) in the County of Kildare.

Lord and Lady Eonismore, Countesses of Effingham and Bantry and Admirals Otway and Bowen were amongst the latest arrivals in Cheltenham

The Right Hon. Nicholas Vansittart, the Chancellor of the Exchequer of England, arrived in Dublin on Monday; & in the evening accompanied the Rt. Hon. Mr. Secretary Peel, to his seat in the Phoenix Park.

The following appears in a Dublin Evening Paper of Tuesday:—

"THE EARL OF DONOUGHMORE.

"We have heard with much regret, that this patri- otic and highly esteemed Nobleman is seriously indis- posed at his seat, Knocklofty, in the county of Tippe- rary, and we understand that the Surgeon General left Dublin on Tuesday morning, by express.

With regard to the above, we are exceedingly gra- tified to be enabled to state, that the Earl of Do- noughmore was considerably better after the first visit of Surgeon General, who gave very strong hopes of his Lordship's restoration. The attack which this much respected nobleman experienced was the gout in the bowels, and was very alarming for the moment—and, but for the superior skill which encountered it, might have proved fatal.—Correspondent of Wednesday.

The present Countess of Loudaff is one of the young- er daughters of the late venerable and lamented Mr. Latouche.

Lord Clifton, we are sorry to learn, is much indis- posed at his father's (Earl Darnley) seat, Cobham Hall.

Lord Lynedoch and his nephew, Robert Graham, Esq. left London on Saturday last, for Brussels, where they intend remaining for a short time, on their way to the German Spa.

The Prince Regent, accompanied by Sir B. Bloom- field arrived at Brighton on Friday last.

Baly, 51st foot, to Miss Juliette, of New- port.—At Bath, the Rev. A Bowl, to Miss Sharp, grand daughter to the late Archbishop of York.

DEATHS.

On Monday last, at James Brook, co. Cork, Michael Gould Adams, Esq.—Not more than about eight or ten days ago, he was in this city, apparently in the full vigour of health and spirits—thus cut off, in the very prime of life, his premature and almost sudden taking away, has furnished another most impressive example of the instability of human life—he pos- sessed all that amiability of manners, that suavity of dispo- sition, and benevolence of heart, which never fail to ensure to the possessor the admiration of the world, the esteem of his friends, and the affections of his family—however painfully pleasing the task may be to us, we must forbear, as there is one to whose remembrance we wish not to call those virtues which now, alas! have sunk into the grave—The marble that records his worth may decay, but the characters in which affection has inscribed it on the wounded heart of his amiable and afflicted Consort will never be obliterated.—Wednesday last, in Newry, the Rev. Daniel Jennings, Roman Catholic Pastor of Moira.—In Staffordshire, Sir Wm. Wolsely, Bart.—In Waterford, Mrs. Hamilton, relict of the late Rev. James Hamilton, Presbyterian Minister of that City.—On Tuesday night at Ballycorney, near Killalo, Mr. Peter M' Cormac.—Wednesday morning, at the Franciscan Convent, Newgate lane, the Rev. Waterford—she was eldest daughter of A. G. Cragh, Esq. of Laurentinum, co. Cork, by Isabella, sister to the late Col. Bagwell, M. P. for the co. Tipperary.

FEVER HOSPITAL.

THE Governors of the FEVER HOSPITAL return their most grateful acknowledgments to the Rev. H. GUBBINS, Rev. Mr. LEWIS, Rev. JOHN DUBDELL, Rev. W. D. HOARE, Rev. Dr. TOWNLEY, and Rev. Mr. PETHERICK, for their benevolent exertions on behalf of this most useful charity on last Sunday. The very high interest which these Gentlemen evinced for the welfare of the inhabitants of this city, was conspicuous in the eloquent appeal which they made in their respective churches: nor did that appeal pass unheeded; for, largely as the bounty of the people of Limerick has been, often and lately drawn upon, and though many families are absent at this season, the very considerable sum of £96 3s. 3d. was collected on that day.

To the Charitable and Generous auditory and public who contributed on that occasion, and to the MAYOR, ROBERT MAUNSELL, JOHN TUTHILL, and WILLIAM RYVES, Esqrs. who acted as Collectors, the Governors beg to express their warmest gratitude.
