

EQUALIZATION OF CURRENCY.

The article which we some time since copied from a Dublin Print, on this subject, appears to have been no more than an idle rumour—We do not know on what authority that Print gave it to the public, but we are convinced, from a consideration of the question, and the opinion of some of the best informed people, that it is a measure wholly impracticable, at least at present—It was alleged that the Bank of England had it in contemplation to take the Bank of Ireland bank post bills at par, but that, however, would not assimilate the currency of both countries.—It is not in the power of the bank directors to effect it, as it rests with parliament only.

HAY AND CORN.

The following is particularly deserving of attention: The best means of saving Hay, and preserving Corn from being damaged in the field.—Hay would dry much sooner, if, after it is mowed, it were laid on nets kept at a distance from the ground, with poles fixed at the edges of the nets at certain distances—the wind and air surrounding the hay on all sides, would render it fit for storage in a much shorter time than is now required. To preserve it from independent rain, or to form it into a hillock, let one end of the net be brought towards the other, and the work is nearly done. A proof that hay will be dry much sooner by this management is, that cloth exposed to the air on both sides is dry sooner than if it were against a wall. The expences of the nets would be inconsiderable, because the meshes of them may be very large; and as they require no great strength they may be made of twine, the edges excepted which should be cords. An acre of nets would save many hundred acres of hay—100 feet in length and 20 in breadth may be proper dimensions for one of these nets. It is now too far gone in the season to provide quantities of these nets; but Gentlemen desirous to promote the public good are requested to make experiments this very year, and publish the advantage accruing from them the next year, that in all future times the utility of them may be known. Making the nets would also give employment to a number of poor persons.

AN EXTRAORDINARY FACT.—It is some time over three weeks since a carriage drove up to an Inn in the town of Ennisymon, co. Clare. It was about eleven o'clock at night, and a lady with a female attendant who were in the carriage agreed with the proprietor of the house for a certain portion of it to which no access should be had during their stay, but by themselves. The preliminaries being agreed upon, the unknown fair ones took possession of their apartments, and the carriage immediately drove off. In a few days after the lady was delivered of a male child. The landlord was applied to, and a healthy nurse was procured, to whom the child was handed with five guineas, and an assurance of being attended to once a month. About eight or ten days after the accouchement, the carriage returned at night when the lady discharged her bill, and requested to add a guinea for the strict adherence to her original agreement.—She then stepped into the carriage with her attendant, which directly drove off. On entering and departing from the Inn, as well as during their stay, they both appeared masked, and the door of their chamber was never opened wider than to admit a hand with whatever might be necessary from time to time.

THE ARMY.

The 6th dragoon guards are now on their march from the North to Manchester, where they are to be quartered during the winter.

The 60th regiment is gone to Scotland, and the 18th to Bilboa.

Captains Privy, Bourchier, O'ley, and Brace, Lieut. Col. Simeld, 103d regiment, and all the shipwrights in service in Upper Canada, arrived at Portsmouth, on Thursday sea night in the Prevoyante.

Committed to Ennis jail, by George Warburton, Esq. on Wednesday last, Thomas Kagau and James Hehir, for having circulated counterfeit tokens for the different sums of six shillings, and two and sixpence, knowing them to be so.

we shall soon be able to declare him perfectly convalescent—It is said that a large reward is immediately to be offered for the apprehension of the fellows concerned in the brutal attack on that gentleman.

It is at length understood, that the Chief Justice, whose suavity of manners, whose deep learning and luminous understanding conferred such honor on the bench, and proved of such signal service to the public and the suitors in this court, will not preside again at the Judgment Seat.—Dub. E. P.

FASHIONABLE WORLD.

Colonel Carrol, Knight of the Royal Order of Charles III. spent the last week at the Earl of Glengall's, and Bannaha Castle, alternately—in the course of which, the gallant Colonel and a large party enjoyed the amusement of shooting on the celebrated Galtee mountains.

Mr. Vansittart arrived in London from Dublin, on Wednesday.

Major General O'Loughlin arrived at his house, Henry street, on Thursday from Ennis.

Miss Sargent is on a visit at Tramore, with her uncle, Captain Sargent.

Arrivals at Castle Connell—Mr. Charles Studdart and family—Mrs. Hewson and family—Mr. Tutill and family—Mr. and Mrs. Russell and family—Mrs. and Miss Ross—Mrs. Captain Hunt—Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Kelly—Misses Sheppard.

Miss Blood is at present on a visit at Ballyvally, the beautiful seat of Mr. Parker.

Lord Byron's striking and impressive poem of The Corsair is, it is said, the foundation of an Opera preparing for Drury lane Theatre. The music is to be composed by Bishop, and Keen is the piratical hero of the piece.

Lord Byron's family estate of Newstead abbey, in Nottinghamshire, consisting of upwards of three thousand acres, well ornamented with wood & water, was last week put up at Garraway's, by Farebrother, & knocked down at 96,500 guineas.

Mr. T. Dibdin, it is said, is preparing a new Opera for Covent garden Theatre, to give scope to the powers of Braham on his return to that place.

A Miss Corri, from Edinburgh, has just returned to London, after an extensive tour with Madame Catalani, under whose care and tuition she has been for the last two years.

An Irish officer, now a Colonel in the Spanish service, equally distinguished for wit and gallantry, being asked at a neighbouring place of fashionable resort, which of the two Misses _____, (ladies of large fortune) would he have, he exclaimed, with all the ardour of a true Hibernian—"I'll have them BOTH, by _____."

BIRTHS.

In Kilkenny, the lady of Major Morriason, 1th dragoons, of a son.

In Dublin, the lady of the Rev. Thomas Carr, of two daughters.

In Rochdale, the lady of Lieutenant Colonel Gerard, of a daughter.

MARRIAGES.

At Madron, Lieutenant Millet, R. N. of Marazion, to Miss Elizabeth Davy, of Penzance, youngest daughter of Sir H. Davy.

Thomas Butler Cole, Esq. of Kirkland hall, and Beaumont Cote, Lancaster, to Louisa, youngest daughter of J. Grimshawe, Esq.

At Tramore church, J. Wall, Esq. 40th regt. to Eliza, daughter of T. Cooke, Esq.

In Cork, Mr. Robt. Homan, to Charlotte, daughter of Mr F. Couterell.

On Thursday, at Mary's church, Mr. Richard Magin, of Mungret street, to Miss Maria Sparling, of Rour, in this county.

In Drumcondra church, Edward Archer Esq. to Margaret, second daughter of the late David Courtney, Esq. of Dublin.

In Galway, J. W. Price, Esq. surgeon of the 12th regt. of foot, to Jane Elleanor, youngest daughter of J. Bellew, Esq. co. Galway

At Manchester, Wm. Russell, Esq. of Bshia, to Miss Anna Mellor.

At Eglington Castle, on the 21st ult. Richard A. Oswald, Esq. of Acheruive, to the Right Honourable Lady Lilies M'Queen.

DEATHS.

At her house on the South Mall, Cork, the wife of Wm. Philips, Esq.

In Kilworth, of a short illness, Mary Anne, wife of W. Paye, Esq.

Interest

FOR
TO
THE CITY
IN P
A FULL AND
SPE

CANDIDATES

IN THE REGULAR
A LIST OF
Their Places of Residence

TO WHICH IS
MR. TUTT

TO PA
Against the Legals

Interspersed with a variety
so as to give it not only

COUNTY

Presentments

THE PRINTER to County, informs,
&c. of same, that Print
sentments, granted at delivery at the office of
Esq. Rutland Street.

Hibernia Printing
25, George's Street.

THEATRE

UNDER THE IMME
The Rt. Worshipful J.

FOR THE BE

Fever, Lunatic and

MR. TALBOT, having atre, Scenery, and
On MONDAY Even

Will be attempted Shaki
much admiri

OTH

By Gentlemen Amateurs, of which, Miss TREBY I

Deademons.
The part of Amelia, by a appearance

End of
A Military Hornpipe, with Broad Sword Exerc

In the course
The new Scenery of this the LAS

MR. GE

The celebrated Performer
Pipes, will play several

The Clog Dance, by a you
The Evening's Entertain
the col

Leap into, and out o