

Every place of worship presented the same dismal appearance; at the Cathedral, on Sunday evening, Mr. Osborne performed a grand funeral dirge, and the choir, assisted by some other professional gentlemen, chanted a delightful anthem, in the finest style; the church was extremely crowded, and the vocal and instrumental performances gave the highest satisfaction. The Rt. Rev. Lord Bishop of Limerick has been pleased to appoint the Rev. W. D. Hoare, to the Vicar Generalship of this diocese vacant by the resignation of Archdeacon Mansell.

The SALE of Lord COURTENAY'S ESTATES, (Advertised in First Page) is Adjourned until the 11th of DECEMBER.

(From the Dublin Correspondent.)

The Right Honorable Vesey Fitzgerald arrived in Dublin a few days ago, from Holyhead.—We are informed that he means, in a very few days, to visit the County of Clare, and proceed on his canvass for his representation at the next General Election. If talent and ability are sufficient to rouse the energies of that County, as an integral part of the British Empire, to a due sense of their constitutional rights, they will, on that occasion, have an opportunity of evincing their zeal for the public good, by selecting him as one of their Representatives. There is no man more eminently qualified to render service to his country, than Mr. Fitzgerald—judging, from what is before us of his political life; and certainly, according to the same estimate, no man can be more sincerely disposed to serve her than he is.

DEATHS.

On the evening of Sunday last, in the Tontine, Pryce Peacock, Esq. attorney at law—No. decease that we can call to recollection which has lately occurred in this city, has caused more unfeigned regret, than that which is now becoming our painful duty to announce.—In the public and private relations of life, he was alike esteemed.—For many years he has been an honor and an ornament to that profession, which he practised with the truest fidelity to his client—he was not alone the paid advocate, but he was the warm and interested friend.—As a private character, perhaps, he was still more estimable—in discharge of the various duties of husband, father, friend, he was truly exemplary.—His loss is most deeply felt and will be long deplored, by an amiable wife and family.

Wm. Mason, of Ballinduganig, county Kerry, Esq.
Margaret Reade, fifth daughter of Christopher Reade, Esq. of Tullycarne, county Down.

At Castletown, Eliza, wife of Robert Rowan, Esq.
Of a typhus fever, Robert Atkinson, Esq. of the city of Armagh, aged 28 years.

Also Mrs. Atkinson, wife of Dr. Atkinson, of Armagh, of a typhus fever.

In London, J. A. De Lue, Esq. F. R. S. This venerable philosopher was born in Switzerland, in the year 1726.

In Galway, the Rev. James Fleming, Superior of the Augustinian Convent.

At May Park, county of Waterford, the seat of Sir H. May, Bart. Mrs. Dorcas Grueber, aged 82. She was married to the Rev. Henry Bayly, Rector of Nenagh, and was the mother of Lady May, and of Mrs. Bayly, her only surviving children.

At St. Maude, near Paris, in the 12th year of his age, after a severe illness of three months, which he bore with unequalled courage and patience, and which, as has been ascertained, was occasioned by his having swallowed an ear of rye on the 21st July, Viscount Boringdon, eldest son of the Earl of Moiley.

At Torquay, Captain George Bowen, R. N. brother to Commissioner Bowen, and the late Captain Richard Bowen, who fell at the attack of Santa Cruz, Teneriffe, under the command of the immortal Nelson.

In Barrisonossery, much lamented, Mr. Jeremiah Tracy, of this city.

Sunday, found dead at his house in London, to which he went in perfect health the preceding night, Sir John B. Davis.

In Waterford, Lieut. Cruice, 44th regt.

At St. Denis, near Paris, on her return to England, Frederica, wife of Thomas Heaver, Esq. of London, and daughter of the late Baron Raignville. Her death was occasioned in making a false step, which threw her to the ground, in alighting from her carriage, when she unfortunately received a severe contusion on her left side, that eventually brought on a premature accouchement, and unhappily terminated her life in the 30th year of her age.
