DEATH—With deep sorrow and regret, we state the death, yesterday, at his lodgings in Patrick-street, of Doctor Jones; a Gentleman whose loss is most sincerely and justly regretted: to the poor his kindness was most disinterested, and his valuable life fell a sacrifice in attending on the indigent of this city, from one of whom, he caught the prevailing fever. By his death a vacancy occurs for a Physician in the Fever Hospital and House of Industry—On Tuesday, at his house in Merrion-row, Dublin, Charles Ormsby, Esq. The respectability of the establishment (Messrs. Reeves and Ormsby) of which he was an active partner, is well known to the public; and the esteem in which Mr. Ormsby was held, was fully evinced by the numerous and respectable attendance of professional Gentlemen at the interment of his remains on Saturday—At Spring Lodge, near Kilsinnane, Thomas Collins, Esq. late Lieut. in the N. Cork regt. He bore a tedious illness with pious resignation, and his death is much lamented—On Thursday, the Rev.
