JOHN HANLY

HAS just returned from Dublin, with a fine Assortment of Goods, which will bear competition with any Drapery ever brought into Limerick, purchased for Cash, and as he is determined to confine himself to a Ready Money sell to Customers of that description, unknown in this City. The lowest price on each Article, from which no reduction will be made, and thus the most unexpensive is put upon a footing with the best judgment.

HANLY is well aware that the Public are disposed to rely on the professions and promises of this nature, the promise being so very seldom realised; he, however, a trial, and is content to rest the establishment on the result, convinced that the advantages he proposes to the Public will be substantial.
