decline the sales were heavy, the millers not being disposed to purchase more than their immediate wants require.— Foreign Barley is 4s. per quarter cheaper, the quality of the last arrival being inferior, the malsters would not buy it, but the English Barley is only 2s. per quarter lower than last Monday. Oats met ready sale at a decline of 1s. per quarter. Peas and Beans no alteration.

Dublin Markets, on Thursday.—We had a very poor supply of Grain at yesterday's Market; notwithstanding which there was more than sufficient to meet the demand. Neither the Distiller nor the Merchant were buying; of course, prices for Oats and Barley remain nominally the same as those of last day. Some few parcels of Miller's Wheat were sold at 58s. to 62s.—inferior not in demand. Flour is still dull of sale, except very coarse Seconds, Thirds, and Fourths—these descriptions are scarce, and meet a ready sale to the Mill-men, but not at profitable prices for the Miller.
