ck, Mr. Henry St. Lawrence, Revenue Officer, d by Lieut. Gardner, and a party of the 66th ded into Erris, for the purpose of detecting some leries, of which they had information; after ee distilleries, on their return to quarters on the evening, passing by the island of Corromore, years' past for carrying on illicit distillation, abuted by a musket shot, fired at them from the Revenue Officer and party proceeded to Mr. lodge, for the night, and on the morning of the ed to the shore opposite the island, when the ficer, with two of the soldiers and Lieut. Gardner, ch a bayonet and small pistol, swam into the astlebar Gael—two others escaped by boat.

deserted from the Island of St. Helena, in August last; the manner in which he got away was in some transport which put into the island in order to refit, on board of which he contrived to get a passage, having furnished himself with coloured clothes which he obtained from an Officer's servant, and was landed at Portsmouth; this man has been closely examined by a Magistrate, as to his having had any communication with Bonaparte, but he denies ever having had any, more than seeing him when as sentinel; his reason for deserting, he says was, having very hard duty to perform, making roads and throwing up works, besides bad provisions to eat.

Three thatched houses were burned on the lands of Farrenshone, North Liberties of this City, on Wednesday night, the property of Daniel O'Meara.—It is supposed they were maliciously set on fire.

The Fair of Spencil-hill, on Wednesday, was numerously attended. The purchases of black cattle were extensive, and prices very flattering, but the shew of horses was deficient, both in number and quality, to what has been generally exhibited at that place.

The fairs in the County of Clare, this season, have been very beneficial to the farmers, every subsequent one being more advantageous than the preceding. The fair of Milltown, on Saturday, was the best attended for some years, and more business was transacted than has been for a long period.

The Fair of Ballyragget, on Monday, was well attended, and much business was transacted to the satisfaction of both Buyers and Sellers, Store Cattle and Milch Cows, were in great demand, and brought good prices.

An inquest was held in the Co. jail on Thursday, by Alderman Wilkinson, on the body of Owen Sweeny.—Verdict, "Died a natural death by a bowel complaint." has been pleased to appoint the Rev. Richard Studdert to the living of Quin, vacant by the recent appointment of the Rev. Michael Fitz-Gerald to the Rectory of Dromeliff.

A meeting of the Governors of the Fever Hospital took place on Wednesday, to elect four
