London Corn-Exchange, September 4.

There was a pretty good supply of Wheat this morning from the Suffolk coast, the sale of which was dull at Monday's prices, particularly for old Wheat, which is rather cheaper. Barley fully supports Wednesday's prices, which were 2s. per quarter higher than on Monday, and the demand was brisk for fresh samples. Oats not ready sale, and 1s. per quarter dearer for fine Corn. Old Beans continued unsaleable, having no demand for them.
