DIED—On Monday last, at Breech-Park, Co. Clare, (the seat of his brother-in-law, Robert Keane, C. Esq.) after a painful illness, which he sustained with exemplary fortitude and pious resignation, the Rev. Henry Tweedy. He was of the most amiable disposition and conciliating manners; a fond husband and an affectionate parent; but here we must stop, lest, in recounting his virtues, we should augment the anguish of his disconsolate widow; for, alas! the six charming pledges of their love, who now witness her distress, are at too tender an age to feel the irreparable loss which they have sustained, in being thus early bereft of a father and
