

Coroner for the Co. Dublin, the Appeals Office, Four Courts, &c.

Lark Sheriff's Court will be held on 27th of February.

High Sacrifices for this year will be on the first page.

On Sunday morning, a fire broke out in the shop of Mr. Wilkinson, oil-cloth market-alley, at the risk of Patrick-street, threatened destruction to the neighbourhood. The rapidity of the flames and the quantity of combustibles at the time; however, by the exertions of the Atlas Engine, and a supply of water from the neighbours, the fire was got under, and did not extend to the adjacent buildings. The Mayor, Maj.-Gen. O'Meara, went to the Atlas, and of Mr. James Royal Exchange Assurance Co. terms of the highest commendation.

On Monday night, some villains cut off and carried away from the brig Dart, of Greenock, a coil of rope, and a coil of new rope.

Mr. Irwin, pawn-broker, in Wake-street, was taken into on Saturday, and robbed of a Waterloo medal, and several other articles.

On Saturday night, an old House in Nicholas-street, was blown down, and several lives were lost.

Who have given notice of their intention to be tried under the Act:—James Foley, of the Greenhouse, at Limerick Assizes on Monday; John Little, Patrick Brady, Hugh Brady, at Cavan Assizes; and Jane Jeffcott, Tralee Assizes on Tuesday. The Fever Hospital yesterday received from the Hon. Colonel Lefroy, 12 flannel vests; and from the Hon. Mr. Lefroy, 12 night caps, for the poor leavers of the Hospital, being their usual liberal monthly contribution—also, from the Hon. Mrs. Lefroy, 12 night caps, per Robt. Maunsell, Esq.

Mr. Hugh M'Kibbin, of Belfast, has left for Limerick, to visit ten poor families in that town.

SAVING BANKS.

It was sent for insertion:—The utility of Saving Banks in Scotland, and some parts of Ireland, is much admired; and in Limerick, a City so remarkable for its charity, this most important, most salutary, and most liberal institution, is not promoted? Surely the Philanthropist, or the brilliant effects of this Tradesman's Bank elsewhere, would attract his eye, and establish so desirable an institution, one that will open to the poor a place of deposit for their savings, with the benefit of a reasonable interest, and with full liberty of withdrawing their money, either in whole or in part. Such are the objects which Saving Banks are established. The utility of such must be evident to all. The sick, the aged, the infirm, &c. &c. by having their savings deposited in a Saving Bank, will be enabled to support an honest independence, whilst they who may neglect to do so, must be a prey to poverty or disease, and will be a burden to the poor-house, and thus become a burden to the people of Limerick. Will promoters of this kind in their City, as it will be the best security, the landlady's security, and will be its invaluable benefit to all classes of

DIED—On Monday evening, in George's-street, universally and most deservedly lamented, Pierce Mahony, Esq. To a very advanced age, he preserved inviolate the character of a Gentleman. Honorable in his dealings, correct in his principles, unostentatious in his charity, of amiable manners, a cheerful disposition, and unbounded hospitality; a tender husband and most affectionate parent. For many years he exercised the duties of a Magistrate for the Counties of Limerick and Kerry with unsullied purity. By his tenacity he was always considered a kind, considerate, and indulgent landlord, and his numerous and respectable family will long feel with regret the loss they have sustained. He bore his illness with the meek resignation of a Christian, and in the hope of another and a better world; the calm resignation with which he met the divine will of his Maker, was the best proof, as it is the best reward, of a well spent life. His remains will be interred to-morrow at St. Munchin's Church.—George Fox, Esq. of Castletown, Co.
