

amiable Rector of Roscrea, who is about to adjourn that Meeting on the 27th, when the Hon. Mr. O'Connell is to be at Corville. The enthusiasm of Roscrea, and all the neighbourhood for their favourite Candidate, is in admiration in which he is the object of zealous feelings for his success, which had been meditated in Ennis gaol, has been prevented by the vigilancy of Mr. Tammey—one of the men concerned in their intentions, in consequence of being detected on Sunday morning, and being taken into the prison a loaded pack, containing a considerable number of shells, and some powder. Those concerned to murder the Rector in for the purpose of locking him up for the night, and then cutting the guard.

Some audacious fellows, in the person of Mr. Francis Boland, of the street, by means of scaling the wall, were of the concerns, and succeeded in opening his desk, from which was taken an amount of £97 10s. worth of gold. A reward is offered for the apprehension of the thieves.

Messrs. O'Shaughnessy and Co., of Excise, by the direction of the Inspector General, proceeded to the Parish of St. Mary's, in the City of Dublin, where they detected an extensive still, and some in process.

Theatrical Amateurs are not to be disappointed. The ship Cyrus, Capt. White, of the Cruiser, Captain Morris, arrived on Wednesday, from the West Indies.

The Arrowsmith, from Sligo, is discharging at Kilrush. The Cariff, Evans, master, is at this port, sailed from Cove.

List of the 25th states, that the ship laden with corn supposed to be the Master, was totally wrecked at Loop Head; this is the vessel, as being bound for Greenore.

By, R. Engineers, of a daughter.—At Kilmallock, the son of Robert Peare, Esq. of a son.—At Brighton, the son of Major-General Mundy, of a boy and girl.

Surgeon and Professor of Anatomy, Royal College of Surgeons, Dublin. His death was occasioned by a slight puncture of one of his fingers, which he gave himself, when in the act of dissecting, on Monday night. Erysipheletous inflammation, was thereby produced, which terminated in gangrene. We understand that during the present season several Students have been seriously injured in a similar way. A wound thus inflicted is always attended with the most dangerous consequences.—Mr. Henry Gillan, of Templemoyle, Co. Derry.—The wife of James Farrell, Esq. of Drumore, Co. Cork.—At Cove, Edward, son of Doctor E. Millett.—At Tobago, the wife of Captain O'Keefe, Royal Rangers, after giving birth to a daughter.—In London, aged 25, on his way to Naples for the recovery of his health, James Farrell, Esq. of North Great George's street, Dublin, Barrister at Law.—In Capel street, Dublin, James George Shannon.—Mr. Thomas O'Neill, son of O'Neill, of the Ormond Tavern, Dublin.—In Dundalk, Francis Tipping, Esq.—In Dublin, in the bloom of youth, Miss Mann, daughter of Stanhope Gresham, Esq. a young lady whose artless innocence and sweetness of disposition endeared her to all who knew her, who have some consolation in believing her Sainted Spirit now reposes in the bosom of her Father.—Elizabeth Frances, eldest daughter of the Rev. George Leslie Gresson, of the Rectory, Co. Westmeath.—On Monday last, the Right Rev. Michael Coreoran, Titular Bishop of Leighlin and Kildare. He was of a very ancient and respectable family in the Queen's County.—Sir Thomas, of Wallington-Hall, Norfolk.—Captain Redmill, of Blackwater, in an advanced age, and severely lamented, Mr. Andrew Caswell.

The death of Captain Stokes of the ship Union of this port, which we lately announced, and which was occasioned by the disease he endured in endeavouring to preserve the cargo of that ship, is a source of affliction to his family. He was 19 years in the trading service—and his brother, Lieut. Stokes, of the Royal Navy, who distinguished himself under Sir Sidney Smith, also lost his life in the service of his country. It is hoped the humane recollection of the Merchants and Underwriters will be directed to his infant son and aged mother, who have lost their only protector.
