At the fair of Turlaghmore on Tuesday, horned cattle were not in as good demand as at some of the preceding fairs. Sheep however sold high, and were eagerly purchased.

After the fair of Bridgetown, Co. Clare, on Thursday, a desperate fight occurred between two clans, when three persons were seriously wounded. The peace was preserved during the fair by Major Hall, a Magistrate, and a troop of the 4th Light Dragoons, but the combatants proceeded to riot after he and the military retired.

The Private Theatrical Amateurs of Clonmel have engaged Mr. Seymour, of the Theatre Royal, Crow-street, and Mrs. Fitzhenry and Mrs. Kelly, from the Belfast Theatre.

Alderman Russell has handed to the Church Wardens of St. Mary's Parish, £1 10s. to be distributed amongst the poor on the Church list of that Parish—it being the proportion of fines inflicted on persons selling liquors without license, which was accordingly distributed.
