Died—On Monday, at his house in George's-street, George Evans, Esq. "Triumphing in death, he rose to immortality through Christ." This lamented Gentleman realized the Christian profession—possessing a heart replete with love; not cloaking itself in words but in deeds—he used hospitality without grudging, his purse being as open to his poor brethren, as his doors were to all. His widow and children have lost the tenderest and most exemplary husband and father; the Methodist Society, to which he belonged, a steady, persevering friend; and the poor a liberal benefactor. If example is more forcible than precept, may the departure of a soul washed, redeemed, and triumphing in the Blood and Righteousness of the Friend of Sinners, lead us to look with hope to the Rock of Ages, and to exclaim "may our last end be like his." His remains will be interred on Thursday morning at Kilkenny—On the 22d, Mrs. Flaherty, relict of the late Mr. Michael Flaherty, of Cork—At Baroda, in the East Indies, Hester, wife of Captain Thomas Backhouse, 47th Regiment, and daughter of Francis Shearman, Esq. of Kilkenny—In Derry, the wife of John Gibbons, Esq. 63d Regiment—At Fratton, John Goldfinch, Esq. late of the Victualling Department at Portsmouth—William, son of Richard Read, Esq. of John-street, Pontonville—On the 20th instant, aged 17, Anne, daughter of W. Johnstone, daughter of Lord Napier—Mrs. Webb, of James's-street East London—In Clonmel, Mr. Francis Wilson, of Waterford.
