some cold and cruel critic, with dull mind and heart—who can neither be warmed by the rays nor softened by the tenderness of sex or sensibility wrap himself up in the anonymous mantle of ass-to stab, with more coward security, the profane of an unprotected woman. But the execration thing that is manly and generous among us heavily upon the shameless slanderer!

Mr. Seymour's Colombo, was performed with lity—in every scene he excited tumultuous plau-Smith, appeared as Iudorico.—There are some
