DEATH—With real concern, we announce the lamented death, in his 70th year, of the Rev. Garrett Wall, Arch-deacon of Emly, and Rector of the Parishes of Temple-Bradin and Pallis-Green; to the latter he was promoted in 1773, and by constant residence since that time, in his highly improved Glebe, diffusing with refined hospitality and uninter-upted social intercourse with his numerous friends and connexions, the blessings of independence and urbanity, he endeared himself to all who knew him! He was the accom- plished Gentleman, the enlightened Divine, the indulgent Landlord and Rector, the beloved, the respected friend of each in his parish, to its poor the constant liberal benefactor, it is easier to fancy than describe what a loss such a character must be to his afflicted family, to society; to attempt it locally, would be in vain. He was father of the Rev. Charles Wall, F. T. C. D.—At Camden-place, Cork, Mrs. Dring, relict of the late Simon Dring, Esq. of Rock-grove, in the Co. Cork—James, son of Michael Cullen, Esq. of Newtown Co. Kildare—In London, Captain Sanders—At Gosfield Hall, Essex, Colonel Astle—At Bicton-House, the Right Hon.
