A daring outrage took place near Dun-the neighbourhood of Myrtle-grove, on about one o'clock in the noon-day—thirteen privates, under the command stewart, 3d Veteran Battalion, were an immense mob, who were in ambush on the soldiers, and deprived seven of a regular action ensued; the serjeant were desperately wounded, and three shot dead, and nineteen wounded.—

at Roscrea, the country people collected numbers, determined to rescue the seizure.

THEATRE.

MR. MCCARTHY'S Benefit will take place on Friday night. This gentleman's talents and manner have secured him the public appreciation; and in London and Dublin, a popular favourite.—An elegant figure, genteel manners, and sprightly disposition, regulated by taste and experience, render him an accomplished and able Actor. On Friday Night he will afford us an opportunity of appreciating his literary acquirements and talent for Composition, he having DRAMATISED Lady Morgan's celebrated Novel of "FLORENCE MCCARTHY," which will be then represented. Miss McCarty, who is a faithful Miniature of the late Miss O'Neill, will, after the manner of that distinguished Lady, go through some scenes in "Romeo and Juliet," "The numerous Furies of "RAISING THE WIND" will close the amusements of the Evening, and fame has proclaimed the "Jeremy Diddler," of Mr. MCCARTHY, to be the best on the Boards. Mr. MCCARTHY is well deserving of Public Patronage—when Talents, Education, and Manners are associated in a Professional man, they never fail to obtain for him the esteem of the judicious and the support of the generous.
