

General Quarter Sessions of this City were opened with the ties before the Right Worshipful Aldermen Watson and Ormsby; except had been read by the Townal Oaths of Office were administered by D. F. G. Mahony, as Charter then took his seat on the Bench, following Grand and Market Juries viz.:

Grand Jury.-- Andrew James Watson, Jeffrey Foote, Michael Egan, Ferguson, Henry White, William Francis Phillip Russell, William Lewis Ryan, John Hogan, James Erick, Stephen B. Goggia, James Gerald McDonnell, Thomas Baker, Field, jun. James O'Gorman, and others.

Small Jury.-- Neptune Conway, Gabriel Purtell, James Clanchy, Denis Boland, James Griffith, John Schales, Francis Quin, Thomas and Christopher Lane.

The Grand Jury called the attention of the Grand Jury to the dilapidated state of many houses in the city; which, from their impending situation, threatened destruction not only to the inhabitants, (and most of them were occupied,) but also to the lives of other subjects who should happen to be near them. The Grand Jury have allowed nearly eighty premises of the city to be pulled down, and we have no doubt the Grand Jury for abating them, will discharge their duty with equal promptitude.

After the swearing of the Juries and calling of prosecutors, the Court adjourned on Friday, the 20th instant, but the Court immediately proceeded to business, and read all the indictments upon which prosecutors had attended. Their next sitting will be at nine o'clock on the morning of the 23d inst. which the Court has been adjourned to.

The Sessions of Clare Sessions, which were to be held at Six-mile-bridge on Monday last, were adjourned to the 23d inst. and the Sessions of Limerick Sessions are adjourned to the 16th.

The Sessions of Limerick Sessions are adjourned to the 16th.

General Sessions of the Peace for the County of Mayo will be held at Ballinrobe, on the 18th inst. and at Ballina, on the 18th.

On the morning, Robert Johnston and Sub-Constables of Police, stationed at Ballinrobe, apprehended Patt. Shinnery, brother of Richard Buckley, at Murree, on the morning of April last. He was yesterday committed to the County Jail, for trial at next Sessions.

A coroner's inquest was held by the Mayor yesterday, on the body of a woman who had died that morning at the County Hospital, and who had been admitted there on Saturday last; Verdict, "that she died of a contusion in the head."

At the County Fair of Quin, on Saturday, more sales of stock than at any fair held during the year.

take one each day. The writer of this Recipe assures us he never knew it to fail, or had occasion to give it more than the third day when it perfectly cured.

DEATHS.

Yesterday, at his house in George's-street, Simon Reardon, Esq. M. D. In the painful task which so frequently devolves upon us of recording the deaths of those who have endeared themselves to society by their virtues, or directed their talents to the benefit of the community, we have seldom had occasion to notice one more fully entitled to be thus classed. Not only his own family, but a wide extended circle of friends, will long feel the loss of a man whose heart was warmed with the sincerest benevolence, and who, for many years, devoted his experience and his medical skill to the philanthropic relief of the unfortunate and the distressed.

Yesterday morning, at her son's house, in Upper Catherine-street, Mrs. Harte, relict of Richard Harte, late of Doon, in the County of Clare, Esq. This amiable Lady survived her beloved husband but seven weeks, during which time she bore a painful illness with that meek submission which marks the Christian character. Her death will be long lamented by her afflicted family and friends.

At the Cove of Cork, Major Courtland Schyler.
Henry G. Molony, Esq. of Gloucester-street, Dublin.
At Richmond, of a rapid decline, Mr. Charles Dempsey.
On the 23d ult. Mrs. Scott, wife of Mr. William Scott, of Lurgaboy near Market-hill, and daughter of William Martin, Esq. of Drumfergus.
In Dublin, Mr. George Hilary, calico-printer.
At Ballyshannon, Thomas William, son of Surgeon Crawford, of the Donegal Militia.
At Portarlington, Michael Kelly, Esq. His death was occasioned by a kick from his horse.
On his return to England from Rome, the Very Rev. Doctor Charles Plowden, P. S. J.
At Derby, Mrs. Parkins, relict of Major Parkins, and sister of Admiral the Right Hon. Sir J. Borlase Warren, Bart.
