 Hotel, on Monday, to celebrate his Majesty's arrival in Ireland.

There was a Public dinner at Fermoy, on Thursday last, in honor of his Majesty's visit.— John Hyde, Esq. M. P. presided. In the evening the town was brilliantly illuminated.

We learn, with pleasure, from some of the Medical Gentlemen of this City, that fever and dysentery have almost entirely disappeared in our Hospitals.

On Saturday last, an inquest was held at Aberinabeg, Co. Clare, by Thomas Sampson, Esq. on the body of John Flinn, who died in consequence of having his skull fractured in an affray at Thomond-gate, as he was returning home from the fair of this City on the 4th inst.
 Verdict accordingly.

On Saturday night last, a fire broke out in the cooperage of Mr. John Farrell, in Cornwallis-street, and raged from twelve to two o'clock, during which time some barrels, &c. were consumed, and were it not for the timely assistance of the Royal Artillery and other Engines, the whole concern, together with the adjacent buildings, would be destroyed. Too much praise cannot be given to Colonel Desbrisay for his exertions on the occasion.

We understand that Mr. Michael Eddington, Sub-Distributor of Stamps at Charleville, is appointed to receive information at his office against all persons keeping dogs and guns, without being licensed agreeable to law.

Extraordinary Performance.—A few days since, a private soldier in the 77th Regiment, for a trifling wager, leaped across a frightful precipice, by the sea-side, at Sunderland, clearing the almost incredible distance of twenty-six feet, to the astonishment of some thousands of spectators, who were shocked at the idea of so bold and daring an attempt. The name of the young man is John Hologhan, a native of this City.
