your ending 31st December last—If we are still annoyed by some few sturdy beggars of our own, and strangers coming into the City, who the Public ought to discountenance by not giving Alms in the Streets, what will be our situation if nearly Four Hundred Vagrants are let loose to seek their subsistence by importunity at our doors—a feeling for self ought to lead to the support of this institution, and if the public will but send their contributions to this House and resist the Beggar in the Street—Street Begging would at once be brought down—The Heads of Families should just now also attend particularly to the conduct of their servants as we apprehend the system of giving out broken meat &c. in the evening is again resorted to, and this system of all others will most tend to encourage begging and prove a cover for many a fraud committed on the family—We understand there is not money in the Treasurers hands this day to support the House for three days.
