These names are Magistrates.

EMEN,
you my grateful thanks for your very kind services as a Magistrate at the period to which I refer, altogether unavailing. I have reason to believe that the public address to me, which appeared in the Gazette, of April 10th 1802.

conscious of any failure of duty, nor of any cause which have induced the proper Authorities to revoke the Commission of the Peace—nor, at any period of life, should I at all regret an exertion which relieves me of a heavy burden, but which is a censure on my conduct and character.— I am indeed most grateful to me, as it relieves me at this point—and I now retire from the public service contented and happy to think that I have the good opinion of those who must be the most judicious of my Magisterial conduct.

I have the honor to be, Gentlemen,

Your most obliged and Faithful, humble servant.

JOHN EVANS.
