DEATHS.

This morning, at his residence at Smythfield, in this County, after a protracted and painful illness, and in the 65th year of his age, the Rev. Richard Croker, Rector of Croom and Vicar of Adare, in this Diocese. His death has deeply afflicted a large family and extensive and highly respectable connections and friends, and is indeed a source of unfeigned regret to all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance, and the Poor will have to lament in him the loss of a generous benefactor. His remains will be interred in the family vault at Croom.

In Rutland square Dublin, on Saturday evening last, the wife of the Honourable Judge Jebb. This Lady possessed all the amiable qualities that could adorn the female character. She was eminently distinguished for her charity to the poor, and her delicate consideration of the distressed who knew better days. Her death is a source of the deepest affliction to her relatives and numerous friends ; and to the many objects of her unwearied benevolence.
