

WELLESLEY HOTEL AND TAVERN.

W. LYONS

A feeling of gratitude to his Friends and the public for the favors conferred by them on his Establishment, Denmark-street, respectfully informs them in view of enlarging his Business, he has removed to FRANCIS-STREET, nearly opposite the Custom-house, which he has fitted up in such a way as to afford a satisfactory accommodation to those Gentlemen who visit or patronize his new Establishment. He has a Stock of OLD MALT WHISKEY, and his ALE are of superior to any ever offered for the City.—Breakfast, Dinners and Suppers, at the most moderate terms. His Beds are well-aired. He solicits support only so long as it will do him honor to deserve it.

W. Lyons will Set the excellent Vaults, situated in the rear of his Concerns—they are well adapted for the Wine or Spirit business.
