

cess Augusta; Colonels Pratt and and five carriages. arence, travelling under the name of s arrived at Brussels.
Marchioness of Bath and suite ar-the 27th ult.
r, though not in current circulation, ghnesses the Dukes of York and Sus-ng the North shortly with a visit.
Marquis of Hastings speedy arrival appointment, at no distant day, as Ireland.
nel Davison, Aid-de-Camp to the gs, arrived in town from Malta. glas Kinnaird lately left town on a where his brother, Lord Kinnaird, an alarming illness.
Mr. Rush, for the last seven years the United States to the British Court, family for New-York. His efficient rewarded by a Ministerial appointment d family have arrived in London, to anks, previous to his departure for s given a donation of 1,000*l.* to the ng and building Churches. advertised for the purpose of cultivating Ireland, which there is no doubt, under nt, will yield a profitable return. ealing the present system of Quarantine third reading last night in the Com-r of the Exchequer has expressed his ving rum to be rectified in the new d that he will propose a difference uty between rum and British spirits. y that allowing this spirit to come in he barley spirits will be ruinous to them. r and Liverpool Rail-Road Bill is lost rry Improvement Bill is read a third e on Moore's Divorce Bill is deferred to alteration is intended in the duties on ecting a junction between the Red Sea anean, is in contemplation of some capind Captain Capes ascended in a balloon n Walworth, and descended in safety at geon match, for 1000 guineas, between d Mr. Osbaldistone, is decided in favor ho killed 39 birds and the latter 37. y and Captain Ross have made another overeigns, 50 birds each, at 21 yards.— minated in favor of the latter. men wear hats without brims, and the whose brims extend almost to the width of brella.
at Marion, now sails every day from the beautiful scenery of Lochlmond. as held on Tuesday evening on the body organ, of Upper Seymour-street, who ended from the bed-post in her room by a hief. The deceased was rather advanced was ascertained committed suicide under ntal derangement.
r. Daw, innkeeper of Badminton, acci-s brother last week in the stables attached body found in Bath river, turns out to be ect.
nson, James Roach, and Samuel Berry, mitted for trial from Mary-la-bonne Office, nd ill-treating at Slough, near Windsor, the South of Ireland.
in the King's Bench, has obtained a rule Hindley, to show how the Marquess of obliged to pay for board and maintenance the Marchioness, since they lived apart of separation.
Frederick Trevor, rector of Burnham, has obtained an order for a Criminal in-inst the Bridgewater and Somersetshire libel.
a Criminal Information has been obtained yor and Aldermen of Fowey, for alleged rd to electioneering matters. ke, the Irish juvenile prodigy, only six is now performing at the Hay Market. erald says, that within a short period there ported to the Continent from the port of nd silver exceeding 700,000*l.* Upwards of this were in gold of British coinage! cheese, intended for the Duke of York, Highness's heraldic bearings engraved on ns of Chester also, from which city it is Lord Milton, eldest son of Earl Fitzwilliam, is arrived in Ireland. It is intended by the Catholics to invite his Lordship to a grand public dinner.

Mr. and Lady Louisa Tighe (daughter of the Duchess of Richmond,) have arrived at their seat, Woodstock, County Kilkenny.
The Bishop of Kildare and the Hon. Mrs. Lindsay have arrived in London from the Continent.
Lord Cloncurry has been summoned before the Commons' Committee on the State of Ireland.
The Dublin Register of Saturday, (the organ of the Catholic Association,) has the following:—"What is to be done? The question is incessantly asked, and may be answered by a speech as lengthy as one of the Magee rhapsodies. At present we will content ourselves with announcing the following trifles:—There is to be a New Catholic Association. There is to be a revived collection of the Rent. There are to be weekly, and sometimes daily meetings. More anon." We (Dublin Morning Post) can state, for the further satisfaction of the Mail, upon authority which has never yet deceived us, that his Majesty's Letter of approbation is altogether confined to that single point in Lord Liverpool's Speech, in which he so completely extinguishes the Duke of York's conscientious scruples respecting the Coronation Oath. This was, in fact, the only point in the Speech of the Noble Earl in which his Majesty felt himself personally interested.
Mr. O'Connell takes the chair at the annual dinner of the Blancherstown Patentee Society, this day.
Mr. O'Connell's paper speaks thus of his triumphal entry into Dublin:—"If we except the memorable 17th of August, 1821, when his Majesty made his public entry into this city, it never exhibited an appearance more dazzling, more animated, or more truly gratifying, than the splendid scene which we shall now attempt to describe."
The following account was proved before the Commissioners of Bankrupts in a case where a friend of Mr.
O'Connell's had become insolvent some eight or ten years ago. The items appeared in this man's schedule as forming part of his account with Mr. O'Connell:—To providing tar barrels and other materials for bonfires on your visit to Killarney, £5 13*s.* 9*d.*—To providing ropes and paying the men who drew your carriage into town, 11*l.* 7*s.* 6*d.*—To three casks of porter for the people who were shouting, 6*l.* 16*s.* 6*d.*
There was a Meeting on Thursday last, at the Corn Exchange, we know not under what designation—whether as a Committee, or what else. It was agreed that the Reporters present should not report the proceedings.
At this meeting Mr. O'Connell, who sat at the head of the table, ordered that the requisition for convening the Aggregate Meeting of the Catholics of Ireland should not be sent to the Dublin Morning Post!—a Paper uniformly devoted to the best interests of the Roman Catholic Cause. We really feel ourselves complimented by this exclusion; whilst we cannot help being amazed at the ultra malignity which certain persons feel towards the Dublin Morning Post, for no other reason under Heaven, that we know of, unless it be, that we do not praise them at the expense of our judgment and our veracity; they will not act so as to let us speak favourably of them.—Morning Post.
The Derry Journal ridicules the absurd statement of Roman Catholic wealth in that district, lately put forth in some Dublin Papers.
The general business of the Hibernian Banking Company commences on the 20th instant.
Kilmainham Sessions commence on the 12th July.
Flint Glass has been raised considerably this week.
£45,000 has just been placed by Parliament in the hands of the Lord Lieutenant, for completion of works in Ireland.
A Lady advanced in years assumed the Veil at Dunleary Nunnery, on Tuesday, in the presence of several Priests and a numerous Congregation.
The Mechanics Institute at Belfast, which now amounts to five hundred members, has agreed that no work of religious controversy, party politics, or immorality, should be admitted into the library.
In London, at the annual distribution of prizes of the Society for encouraging Arts and Manufactures, Mary Marshall of Bandon, and the children of the Bandon School were among the successful candidates, for the best manufactured bonnets of British materials in imitation of Leghorn.
A large quantity of implements, machinery, and other articles arrived in Waterford last week, from Dublin, sent by the Hibernian Mining Company, to be forwarded to their works in this county, which continue to be prosecuted with spirit.
A new Coach, for the conveyance of the Mail, runs between Ballyshannon and Enniskillen.
In the case of Bourke, against Sir R. Waller, the Court of King's Bench this day gave judgment that the verdict obtained by Plaintiff at Clonmel Assizes, should stand.
In the Insolvent Court, last week, Edward O'Reilly was remanded for three months; and John Phelan, for 18 months.

horrid deed.—Westmeath Journal.

The Limerick Chronicle

WEDNESDAY, JUNE 8.

MURDER OF MR. HURST.

We have since our last publication been furnished with a statement of additional circumstances attending the death of this lamented gentleman, whose character, for charity and benevolence, was highly estimated in his neighbourhood. An inquest was held on the body on Saturday, at Ballinacarriga, by John Cox, Esq. one of the County Coroners, in presence of a number of Magistrates and Gentlemen from the vicinity—amongst the former were John Waller, Esq. of Castletown, Bolton Waller, Esq. of Bushy Island, Edward Fitzgerald, Esq. of Rockfield, and Thomas P. Vokes, Esq. Chief Magistrate of Police. A most respectable Jury was impannelled, when after an anxious and patient investigation, a verdict of "Wilful Murder" was returned against Patrick Kirby, alias Kerwick, aided by Margaret Dillon, who were both secured by the exertions of Chief Constable Laurenson of that district, to whose unwearied zeal and activity, in conjunction with Captain Baldwin and Messrs. Hill of Mount Pleasant, the Magistrates are much indebted. The two prisoners were, on Sunday, committed to the County Jail, to abide their trial at the ensuing Assizes. Kirby is a very ill-looking fellow, and a man of notoriously bad character in the Country—but the woman is rather of an engaging person, and handsome features. Her appearance in fact is altogether prepos-sessing—a mutual attachment was ascertained to have existed between both for some months previous to this dreadful crime. The actual scene of the murder is represented as truly frightful. Mr. Hurst was found prostrate on his back in a thick coppice adjoining the house, his head shockingly mangled, and the bones of the skull literally beat in; the grass around him was horridly disfigured, and red again with a profusion of clotted blood, and detached parts of the brain! His hat, cane, watch, and keys, lay at his side. To this secluded part of the plantation, it is now perhaps too well known, the infatuated victim of female duplicity was intentionally allured by the arts of the woman Margaret Dillon, and there the assassin came upon him unawares, and inflicted those deadly blows with a hatchet which produced such effect.
Kirby was known to have had this weapon, and it was found in his house the day subsequent to the murder, clean and recently washed; the blunt end of it, on application to the head, fitted the wound exactly. At the inquest he was brought forward to see and touch the body, to observe whether it would make any impression on him, but not in the slightest degree did it produce the wished for effect, and he conducted himself on the occasion with the most perfect indifference. Kirby was in custody last Assizes for a rape, but bills were only found for an assault, and he was also charged with stealing two sheep from Mr.
Hurst. By a further investigation before the Magistrates on Monday, it was satisfactorily proved that this diabolical outrage was concerted some months ago, and that it emanated from a conspiracy in which the prisoners were ascertained to be principals. The shock sustained by the afflicted family and immediate relatives of Mr.
Hurst cannot well be described, suffice it to say, that the dreadful catastrophe has inflicted a deep mental wound upon one of that family already suffering under a painful illness.

On Sunday night, a ruffian went on the lands of Cortaderra, in the Paish of Tomgrany, County Clare, and maliciously drove an iron spike into the body of a cow, the property of a poor man named Molony. By the activity of Mr. Coffee, Chief Constable of Police, the vile perpetrator has been secured. On Monday night, on the lands of Cloghera, near Trough, some wretch cut a horse's ear, and laid open his cheek.

On Thursday night, between 11 and 12 o'clock, several stones were thrown at the windows of Mr. Piercy, Chief Constable of Police, in the town of Newcastle, which were considerably broken. A pursuit having been commenced, two men of noted character were arrested, and identified; one of them is named Cregan, and has repeatedly been tried under the Insurrection Act.

On the night of the 17th ult. the lodge of the Rev.
Mr. Kinahan, Protestant Clergyman of Feacle, was attacked by a party of villains, who broke the window sashes, and were effecting an entrance thereby when opposed by Mr. Kinahan and his servant, upon which they retired precipitately, leaving a hat behind them.

Yesterday the Mayor held an inquest on the body of Villiers Malone, found drowned in the Canal, and who was missing for the last ten days. The Jury after a close investigation returned a verdict of filio de se.

Captain Seward, late of the County Limerick Militia, was thrown from his horse, near Mallow, on Friday evening, and killed on the spot. His horse was bit by a dog, which was the cause of the melancholy accident.

The 7th
will embar transports,
The 19th
ments to E 200 Sma
killen.
The follo
Recruiting
Lieutenant
Brownrigg
Collins, 5
84th Foot,
Killarney.
260 Men
Captain La
on Wednes Sir Will quartered i the 12th Li
Colonel A Westminste
vice Sir The General.
Colonel I
the Recruit Colonel
vice Colone
General.
The follo
Ireland:—1
laghan, Ma
General Th
Douglas to Major-Ge appointed to
Sir Husse
Sir John La
The May
Council Cha
they enterta
while in com
The Hon.
Athlone (W
English Dist
Major-Ge
Manly Powe
Lieutenant
Commander
by Major-Ge
K. C. H. w
Thomas's re
Lieutenant
sent on half-which have t
It is repor
Colonel Suth
to be appoint
Fitz-Clarence
Brevet Ma
Aid-de-Camp
Staff of this
Captain F
command at
The order
where two Li companies, h the 25th Reg
The annual Session to be father, has b
A General
Board of Orc
Barrack stat liquors, groc within the pre sioned officer the Keeper of equally enjo every thing so and at the fail far this is com of necessary e comfort of the sideration on t Canteen-Keep
course, that modity of goo and which is p else.
A soldier of in Dumbarton that fortificati pieces.
The Gatesh
Friday, with er
Mr. Alexar
Cork in a few
Ballycagh
24th of June.