A London Paper says, it is totally useless for any person now to attempt to gain a commission in the army, as it is a fact that there are now about 2,500 names down for admission, besides a private list of the commander-inchief, which is itself so numerous that it is almost desperation to be placed at the end of it. Major-General Turner, C. B. Governor-General of Sierra Leone, returned to Freetown on the 10th Sept. in the Surrey transport, from his visist to the Plaintain Islands and Sherbro River. The object of the expedition was of the greatest moment to the Colony, his Excellency having contrived to put an end to the slave trade war between the Sherbroes and Kussoos, the former power resigning their sovereignty to the British protection. The incorporation of this valuable tract of country will be a most important measure, by a Gentleman, was driven down Dawson-street, the coachman, in consequence of the density of the fog, did not perceive a large hole in the street where the pavement was displaced, until the coach was precipitated into it. His Lordship was enabled to proceed into Morrisson's Hotel, near which the transaction occurred, but the coach was smashed in several parts. This accident is the more to be regretted, as his Lordship has been in a very delicate state of health for some time. The house of Mr. Dillon, Ship-street, was attempted, at the early hour of seven o'clock, to be stripped of its lead by two men. Some persons, residing in the rere of the concerns, alarming Mr. D. who pursued them at the risk of his life, over the roofs of several of the adjoining houses, but without success. At one period Mr. D. was near suffering for his intrepidity, having been suspended to a spout until released from the perilous situation by some of his neighbours, who with considerable difficulty procured a ladder from the lower Castle Yard. Mr. D. was armed with a blunderbuss, which providentally went off at the moment he slipped, the report of which brought his friends to his assistance .-The Watch Constable of Werburgh's and the Watchman rendered every assistance. A quantity of the Lead which these fellows had torn off was found in the pursuit. Last night the Liffey overflowed its banks in many

All the grounds about Chapelizod were inundated, and in Barrack-street, the people were obliged to leave the ground floors of their houses, The river was so much swollen in Dublin as to leave the arches of the Bridges scarcely discernible. So great a flood is not in the recollection of any inhabitant except that which occurred in 1803 (we think it was), when boats were obliged to ply through the streets. From the heavy rain and wind of Monday night, the large sewers from Summer-hill, where the works of the the Gas Light are situate, were so inundated with water on Tuesday, that the usual supply of Gas could not be prepared, and the streets were but partially lighted on that night. We are informed by several gentlemen who arrived in town this morning (yesterday) from different parts of the country, that the floods, in consequence of the late rains, had an awful appearance. They observed that the roads in some places resembled rivers-and that the rivers in every direction were higher than they remembered to have ever seen them before. Last night it blew a perfect hurricane, and the torrents fell incessantly. We fear we shall have fearful accounts from sea-for in addition to the dismal appearance of the night, it was pitchy dark. Carlow and its vicinity was inundated on Tuesday night, and the inhabitants placed in a state of extreme distress. The country was thickly coversed with snow and every river swell to a torrent. Part of the centre of Wexford Bridge was blown

The Earl of Chatham's leave of absence will shortly expire, when the Noble Lord returns to his station at We have received a file of the Fredericton Gazettes, to a recent date, by the Mariner, arrived in our port, from Mirimachi. They are filled with despatches from the Governor of Nova Scotia, Sir James Kempt, and General Sir Howard Douglas, Governor of New Brunswick, relative to the truly calamitous conflagration at Mirimachi, its ruinous consequences, and the measures taking for the relief of the unhappy sufferers. For this purpose 3,3354 had been subscribed at Halifax, and supplies to the amount of 2,2011 forwarded in clothing and provisions, in H. M. Ship Orestes, by Admiral Lake, and in the Albion, Active, and Elizabeth, Schooners. The inhabitants of Mirimachi had presented an address to Sir Howard Douglas, their beloved Governor, expressive of gratitude and affection, for his humane and unwearied exertions to alleviate their afflictions. The Lieut.-Governor and suite had sub sequently returned to Fredericton. We regret to learn that an account has been received from the India House, that Colonel Lucius O' Brien, of the 5th Native Cavalry, died suddenly on the 10th of July, at Benares, on his way to Keernane, where he had been appointed to a high military command. On the night of Friday last, Serjeant Edward Cranwell, of Mr. Jackson's Police, stationed at Kilfinnan, succeeded in apprehending John Quin, for stealing emare, the property of Patrick O'Dea, of Glin, in the parish of Ballingarry. The mare is in the possession of Cranwell, and the thief in custody.

The fair of Knockaderry, held on Monday, exhibited the greatest shew of stock that was ever seen together at that fair-green. Milch cows and heiffers were only in, demand. Pigs of every description exceedingly below the former prices. About the hour of three o'clock, two lawless factions appeared on their respective positions, ready to advance into contact, but were suddenly frustrated in their sanguinary designs, by Godfrey Massy, Esq. attended by a strong constabulary force from the different out-posts. On reading the Riot Act, and the necessary requisites of priming and loading being performed, the assailing parties withdrew from the field. It appears that as these factions are not permitted to have a general fight, the barbarous and inhuman system of waylaying has been resorted to, and severely acted upon, whereby many persons have, of late, been unmercifully beaten, in the town and neighbourhood of Newcastle.
