CHARITY SERMON.

ON SUNDAY, the 12th MARCH, the Rev. J. W. KIRWAN, of Galway, will Preach the Annual Charity Sermon, at Half-past Two o'Clock, in St. Michael's Chapel, in support of the Female Poor School, under the care of the Ladies of St. Clare.

This school is conducted by a number of religious ladies, who have devoted the last fifteen years to improve the condition of the poor female children of this City, and to their exertions are many, now in a comfortable walk of life, indebted for being capable of instructing their own children, thus extending the blessings of education and industry through the humble classes of society. There are, at present, between three and four hundred children in the rooms, which are capable of containing 800, had these amiable Ladies but the means to extend its advantages to that number. Exclusive of the attention paid to the mental and moral instruction of these poor children, they are taught several branches of useful industry, enabling them, when discharged from the school, to earn a decent independence creditable to themselves, and, in many cases, the chief support of their aged parents. It will, therefore, depend upon a humane public to come forward on this occasion, and, by their generous co-operation, enable these pious and unceasing labourers in the vine-yard of benevolence, to extend the blessings of the school, so far as it admits, to all the children of poverty and ignorance. Such will be a double blessing, it will bless those that give as well as those who receive.

Donations from such as cannot attend will be thankfully received by the Right Rev. Doctor Tuohy, the Clergymen of the City, the Ladies of the Convent, the Gentlemen of the Committee, and by William Fitzgerald Esq. Treasurer to the Charity, 10 Patrick-street. March 4, 1826.

TO SAMUEL DICKSON, ESQ.

SIR—The President, Stewards, Council and Body of the Union and Friendly Society, take the liberty to acquaint you that a meeting was held yesterday, when, from the voices of a full house, thanks for your Charita-
