DEATHS.

Yesterday, in Mary-street, after a short illness, Mr. H.
 Wiegeler, Hat Manufacturer. However true in itself, it would afford but comparatively small consolation to his friends, to reflect on his unsullied integrity, while conducting a respectable Trade, and the amiability of his character in all the relative duties of life. To those who knew and valued him, there remains a far greater consolation—He was given to discover the Supreme Glory of His character, who, though Lord of All, put away sin by the sacrifice of himself. He died rejoicing in the Lord Jesus Christ, as being alone able to save to the uttermost. His remains are to be interred this evening with Masonic honours.

On Monday, in George's-street, very sincerely and deservedly lamented, Mr. Thomas Ryan—a young gentleman in the prime of life, and of the most amiable and pious disposition.
