a blow in the breast which knocked he wall; her hair was put over her es; they walked away soon after heard one of them say it was near had gone she struggled home; she use persons; M'Mahon is the second with her; and Walsh is the person breast; he also did the same to her ot a native of Limerick, but of ove 3 weeks in town from Tarbert, she lodged in Whitehorse-lane, near rself, another girl, and the woman the lodgings, she wore neither cloak ant tell whether the other girl was s out this night on Arthur's-quay, go home; She does not deny she sons at Tarbert; she walked out two swears it was not with a bad intent; money she would not go with him, is; she ledged her information two , never saw M' Mahon before ; after edge her clothes she did misconduct imerick; does not know what house gentleman nor what money he gave now him; she was not drunk; she from poverty; she was determined perefore she would not take money mother came up to Limerick, and e with her ; she did not, but promised t boat; the reason she did not go er clothes were in pawn; acknowinted with a third person in Tarbert, his name was Hamilton; he turned a soldier, and he was the cause of her lier and she lived together a fortnight house near Baals bridge; he gave ged to the 21th Regiment; can't say diers, light company, or battalion; her; it was he took her from Mr. ; she might have gone with a man he got a guinea, but is not sure ; it with a girl of the town, in the back hose window looked out on a small repast eleven that night, three or four window with a young girl and ill-he slept with said it was a shame for and they bid her lie down or they downed do the same to herself; heard making for about ten minutes.—

M'Mahon followed her, and gave tering her lodgings.

Serjeant-Major of the City Police, which the soldier described, was the cutrix was violated, and which she ed that he took M'Mahon into ight at two o'clock, near the Castle prosecution closed, and the defence examination of to deposed that McMahon was in his rish-town, up to within a quarter of ; he lay askeep in the tap-room with s more than a quarter of a mile from

'Mahon a very good character. ew M'Mahon for several years, and rkably good.

deposed that M'Mahon bore a very the last six months he was in his respectively-Gullty in one indistment, and sentenced is Thomas Collins and Eleasor Driscoll were indisted for a burglary in the house of Thomas Cronin, at Morane, on the 25th June, and stealing thereout several articles of wearing apparel. Collins was a servent in the house, and admitted his guilt, and part of the property was found in possession of the female with whom he absended. Both were found guilty, and sentence of death recorded.

Cornelius Ryan, Edmond Ryan, John Ryan, Cornelius Ryan of Ballyadam, Patrick Leonard, and Thomas Glaster, were indicted for the murder of James Ryan, at Kilduff, on the 15th May, while returning from the fair of Chiggin. The Jury returned a verdict, "Guilty of manslaughter," against Cornelius Ryan of Ballyadam, Edmond Ryan, Patrick Leonard, and Cornelius Ryan, and acquitted Thomas Gloster and John Ryan. As the first prisoner appeared the principal in the affray, and to have given the fatal blow with a stone, his Lordship sentenced him to transportation for seven years; the other were sentenced to 18 months' imprisonment each

Mr William O' Brien, a respectable farmer of this County, was capitally indicted for forging a promissory note.

Thomas Day was the first witness for the prosecution, and swore that he never had any dealings with the prisoner in his life, and never gave him a note, or bill of exchange, or any thing of the kind.

Mr Holwell Walshe, Counsel for the prisoner, objected to Day as an incompetent witness, he being the maker of the promissory note himself.

Judge Torrens thought the objection fatal.

Counsellor Jackson then proceeded to examine Der at to his having paid the note, contending that the payment restored his competency, and to that effect cited served authorities.

Mr Walshe denied that any of the cases cited her upon the present, and that nothing but the release of the payee could make the evidence admissible. The Learned Judge being of that opinion, the prisoner was acquitted.

Counsel for the prosecution—I D Jack

Counsel for the prosecution—J D Jackson, and Wa Scaulan, Esqrs. Agent—Mr Fitzgerald.

Counsel for the prisoner—Holwell Walshe, 24.—Agent—Mr O'Dell.

On Monday Judge Torrens was occupied in the less pending contested case of Gabbett, on the part of the County, against Heffernan, to recover a balance of busnial cass in which the Collector, for whom Defendant us bail, had been a defaulter—A verdict was had for Plaintil, 1,6771. 2s 5d.

Honora O'Brien v. Charles M'Mahon, for breach of covenant—This was a case of great aggravation by which the Defendant was kept for six years open to litigation at the suite of Plaintiff without bringing the case to trial, and in which Plaintiff changed agents more than once; and in the present instance endeavoured to keep the case open for further litigation until compelled by Court to proceed, in which Defendant obtained a verdict with costs. The matter was submitted to Mr. Records Waggett for arbitration.

Baron Pennefather yesterday assisted Judge Tortess in fiating the County Presentments.

In the County and City Courts the assizes business was concluded at an early hour, yesterday—in neither has there been a conviction for murder, a very unusual circumstance.

In the course of the afternoon, Baron Pennefathaleft town for Beechmount; the seat of Thomas Lloyd, Esq M P. and on Thursday will proceed for Trales, to open his Commission there on Friday. Mr Justice Torrens also left town yesterday, in the Mail Coach, for Dublin, in consequence of an account received, we regret to hear, of the illness of one of his family.

gret to hear, of the illness of one of his family.

The Grand Jury have appointed the following to con-

Since the jubilee commenced, ten persons is shed church in the parish of the Rev Mr. P of Shanagolden, are said to have become We had rain on Saturday, which was the St Swithen.

A Fever Hospital is about to be erected at Conith Barry, Esq. has given a piece of grount roose.

The Treasurer of the Lying-in-Hospital by following sums for that Institution:—F m William Roche, Esq as Foreman of C ries, 31 6s British. The Treasurer of the Fever Hospital ackn

The Treasurer of the Fever Hospital ackr we received, from William Roche, Esq. Record Juries, 31 6s.

The Treasurer to the Mendicity acknowled eived the following sums in aid of the factory of Hunt, Foreman of a Record Jury, abbins, Esq. Member of Special Jury, 11 oche, Esq. Foreman of several Record Jury. Committed, this morning, to the Co. Jail billips Vokes, Esq. Maurice Finn, for the Nagle, in the town of Kilmiallock, on the blow of a stone.

THEATRE.-We are glad to perceive that Mr. R. Forde are likely to be attended

e beauty and fashion which thronged the b ight, lead us to hope that with the revival turns the taste for Theatrical amusement the Connedy of Speed the Plough was me erformed, and we were agreeably surprise Calbot (who, probably by some error of t ot mentioned in the bills of the day,) co. Bob Handy, and acquitted himself with hi ence. Mr. R. Forde's performance of He o the satisfaction of the audience; his cenes with Sir Philip Blunford was truly at Wynne as Sir Philip, and Mr. James as F. dded much to the edat with which the pie Mrs. R. Forde in Miss Blauford was reall here is a sweetness of expression, and a peanour about this Lady, which must eve riking object of admiration-we witnes nance of Berthu in the Deserter, and the nate in the Foundling of the Forest, and w lighted with the talent she displayed in the Mrs. Wynne is a highly respectable actre James was in high spirits and acted his The dancing of Madame and Master and was one of the best specimens of that delever witnessed in this City—the splendic figure of the former, her superior action, ful and sylph like forms of the latter, experformance on the light fantastic toe, conceasing topic of admiration. A loud from all parts of the house. In reference we copy nearly the words of an Editorial performance in Monsieur Tonson, in Dublieve the stage does not not ever did unique or perfect performance, than Mr.

character of Morbleon: his figure, his activities dress, his address, with his knowledguage and pure pronunciation, together and graceful dancing, qualify him better than any actor on the stage; and, as reby no means equalled on the London botting the house will be extremely crowded

BIRTHS

In Waterford, the Lady of Sheriff Hol At Wilton, County Wexford, the