To the Editor of the Dublin Morning Post.

Sir,—I read in your Paper of this day, a report of certain speeches, said to have been delivered at a Roman Catholic Meeting, held on Tuesday last in Waterford. In one of these, purporting to have been delivered by Mr. Daniel O'Connell, a tirade is introduced against the Dublin Evening Mail, in which I am named and called "a renegade Catholic." I shall simply state, in reply to this allegation, that Mr. Daniel O'Connell has uttered a falsehood, I believe, and have reason to think, knowingly. My family and myself have always been, and still are, Protestants of the Church of England.

I am, Sir, your obedient servant,

WILLIAM GLYNN.

WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 6.

The alarming state of fever in this city has obliged the Governors of the Hospital to forward a requisition to the Mayor for a Meeting of the Inhabitants. The symptoms attendant on this disease, we are happy to learn, are not of that malignant type which, under other circumstances, proved fatal in many cases. The patients, in general, are affected with low Fever, produced in a great measure by the privation they suffer for want of food and raiment—some of them are absolutely introduced in a starving state. There were 1,746 persons admitted into the Hospital within the last nine months.

Parliament, it will be seen by a Proclamation in the London Gazette of Friday night, has been further pro-rogued from the 2d to the 14th day of November next, when it will "sit for the despatch of divers urgent and important affairs."

Friday night's Gazette also contains a Proclamation of an important nature. By the laws at present in force, it is well known, foreign oats cannot be admitted into the home market until the average price of the quarter is 27s. nor pease, until the average price is 53s. a quarter. From the Returns made to his Majesty's Government, it appears that the prices of oats and pease, respectively, already exceed those sums, and that they are still rising. By the existing law, however, no importation can take place until the 15th November, when the quarterly averages fall again to be struck, although a considerable failure in the crops of oats and pease, aggravated by an apprehended deficiency in the potatoe crop, renders it probable, that, before that time, very serious inconveniences may ensue. His Majesty, in Council, accordingly grants permission, for the immediate introduction into the home market, of oats, oatmeal, rye, pease, and beans, whether at present warehoused or not, merely requiring sufficient sureties from the importers, for the payment of a duty of 2s. on each quarter, on oats; 3s. 6d. on each quarter of rye, pease, or beans; and 2s. 2d. on each boll of oatmeal imported in consequence of this Proclamation.

The 72d Regiment, now quartered in the garrison of Belfast, has received the route for Londonderry and surrounding places of detachment, and will be replaced by the depot of the 50th Regiment.

On Monday last, the depot of the 77th Regiment, under the command of Major Clerke, which has been quartered in Mullingar about four months, marched from thence for Newry and Downpatrick, where they are to remain to do duty.

Two Companies of the 61st Regiment, under the command of Captain McLeod, have marched into the barracks of Mullingar from Athlone, to replace the 77th depot. They are to remain there till further orders.

The Depot of the 81st Regiment of Infantry has received orders to proceed from Portsmouth to Guernsey.

The Depot of the 23d (Royal Welsh Fusiliers) has received orders to proceed from Guernsey to Brecon.

Invalid detachments of the Royal Artillery, 33d, 50th, 77th, 91st, and 92d Regiments, have arrived at Portsmouth, by the Princess Royal Transport, from Jamaica.

Detachments for the 33d and 77th Regiments have proceeded from Portsmouth, to embark at Bristol for Ireland, to join their depots.

The entire of the 56th Regiment, now landed from the Mauritius, has received orders to march from Portsmouth to Hull.

Captain Hall and a detachment of the 75th, have arrived at Omagh.

Yesterday, an affray took place between two men at Adare, when one of them struck the other, named William Sullivan, with a pitchfork, which fractured his skull, of which he died last night. The murderer has been taken and is now in prison.

On Sunday night, that zealous and efficient Magistrate John S. Brown, of Mount Brown, Esq. accompanied by Mr. Smith, Chief Constable, and his Police, from Rathkeale, succeeded after a fatiguing search thro' a large tract of Country, in apprehending seven notorious characters, who are deeply implicated in the murders and burnings of the years 1822 and 1823, for which they will have to account at the next Assizes. These delinquents, from the length of time that elapsed, rested in security, thinking their atrocity was buried in oblivion: but it is a consolatory reflection to know, that although justice may seem slow, it will sooner or later overtake the wretches that have so outraged the laws of God and their Country. "Although the wicked join hand in hand, they shall not go unpunished." One of the prisoners remarked to Mr. Smith when he was putting the hand-cuffs on him, that the iron hand of the law was very strong—yes, (said Mr. S.) you thought it would never overtake you. O! (said the prisoner sighing,) but even now it is too soon.

William Lynch, Thomas Lynch, Thomas Nowlan, John Halloran, William McDonnell, five of the above party have been since fully committed for the murder of Thomas Egan near Mount-Brown, in February, 1822.

An horrible murder was committed at Scart, near Cappoquin, on Tuesday. Thomas Burke, a man 75 years old, was walking over his bog, when he discovered some persons stealing turf. They attacked him with stones, and fractured his skull so severely that he died the same night. None of the murderers have been apprehended.

Three female convicts, tried at the last assizes of Ennis, arrived here on Monday, on their way to Cork, for transportation.

Early on Sunday morning, an old offender, named James Ryan, broke into the house of Mr. Dawson, Henry-street, by opening a window, and stole a suite of clothes, six shirts, eleven silver spoons, a case of pistols, a watch and a desk. Mr. Dawson, alarmed by the falling of the desk, got up and pursued the fellow, who presented both pistols at him, and swore he would shoot him. Mr. D. however, not intimidated, succeeded in securing him, with all the articles in his possession, and he was committed to prison.

A few nights ago, a respectable girl, residing near Listowel, was forcibly taken off to the County Cork mountains.

The Rev John Duddell, Rector of St. Munchin's, has received for the poor of that Parish, Forty Shillings, a fine inflicted by the Mayor, at the prosecution of David R. Blood, Esq. on a deputy toll-gatherer, for charging English instead of Irish money, for toll on corn.

The Rev. Henry Subbins has received for the Poor of St. Mary's, Forty Shillings, a fine inflicted by the Mayor, at the prosecution of Surgeon Gibson, on a Serjeant at Mace, for charging English instead of Irish money, for a summons.

The Trustees for the erection of a new Corn Market in Cork, have agreed to take for a site the ground called Sleigh's Marsh, held by William Wyse, Esq. which that gentleman has offered to them free of all rent, in consideration of the value it will add to his property in that direction. Savage French, Jacob Mark, and Robert Ivory, Esqrs. are the Trustees. The bridge from the South Mall to the opposite side will of course be commenced forthwith, the estimated expence 10,000l. of which Government gives half. Richard Griffiths, Esq. is appointed engineer.

The Cork Committee of Merchants have applied to the Post Masters General, requesting an arrangement that will insure the arrival of letters in that City in the morning, and not in the evening, as at present. Sir Edward S. Lees says, he only waits the direction of the English Post Master General on the subject.

The fair of Croom, on Friday, presented a large show of live stock, but buying was not brisk, except for pigs and prime lots, the former purchased by jobbers for the Cork and Waterford Markets, at an average of 50s. a cwt. Graziers anticipating a crop of aftergrass bought up a few lots of two-year-old wethers, at 30s. each, but a scarcity of winter fodder prevented their looking after heavy cattle. Altogether the fair was not encouraging, but will, in future, it is said, be custom free, at this season of the year.

The fair of Rockhill, between Abbeyfeale and Newmarket, was well attended on Monday, and prices generally advancing. The business was attempted to be interrupted by a faction of the Mulcahys, but their opponents, the Curtins, very prudently took no notice of the
